Talk about anake stories! Mr. David Leis can beat the record. While plowing on his farm the other day he turned up a nest-full of them, ten or twelve in all. He dropped the lines and ran, but soon recovered from his panic when he thought of his team. Securing a club he quickly returned to the scene and slashing out right and left he killed eight of the reptiles. The rest escaped. The largest of the snakes measured six feet in length. Next!

Quite a number of the people from the surrounding country from the surrouncing country were roused by the ringing of the fire alarm bell at Nithburg about ten o'clock on Saturday night. A small blaze had sprung up at the Dia-mond ball, on Main street. The improvised fire brigade were soon on the scene and the flames were quickly extinguished. No serious mage was done.

We heard a funny reason given, the other day, by a countryman who firmly believed that the earth is flat instead of round, and that it is the sun, not the earth, which moves and thus causes day and night. He had a religious turn of mind and in his argument would point upwards when he referred to beaven, and downwards when his remarks concerned the other place. "I can't see how the sun would keep hot," said he "if it stood still so many years. FREE REPRINTS OF SPLENDID PAINTINGS.

Mr. John Innes, who for twelve years lived among the miners and ranchers in our own West, and who first studied art in England when a youth, is recognized as Canada's leading exponent of outdoor painting. Mr. Innes' two last paintings are his best, two large canvasses portraying typical incidents of our westernlife. They are styled "On the edge of the herd" and "The Miners' Farewell." The former is Mmers Farewell. The former is a striking incident of a round-up, a cow-puncher, thrown from his horse, being charged upon by a wild steer, while a fellow cowboy racing after, is preparing to throw his lasso. The herd in the back-ground grows restless and threatens to stampede. Behind all rise the snow-capped peaks of the Rock-ics. As a whole the painting is a masterpiece of coloring, drawing and action.
The Miner's Farewell' depicts a mounted miner with saddle bags bulging with gold dust, homeward-bound. Far down in the valley be sights his old comrades working at sights his old comrades working at the sluices. A parting wave and cheer is exchanged. The back-ground is a mass of mountain and mist, forest and cloud. The treat-ment is masterly, bold and true. The Mail and Empire has secured exact 14-color reproductions of these minings 1520 inches in

A RICH STRIKE.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 22.-News has been confirmed of a rich strike on horsefly Creek, in Old Cariboo, British Columbia. Pana run up to $2, and there is a wild stampede similar to the first rush to the Klondyke. At first the news was received with incredulity, the state-ment being made that the country was all worked out as far as place were concerned thirty years ago. In the rush of the sixties two million dollars were taken from Light-ning Creek, Carriboo, in three weeks, and Antier Creek was al-most as rich. It is claimed that in the rush of long ago, for some res-Mr. Jucob Morley, of New Ham-burg, is building a new electric power house in which he will place i romance. Adolub Pracker a for romance. Adolphe Drucker, a for mer British M. P., met some Brit-ish Columbians in London, Eng-land, who told him of the riches that had been obtained in Carriboo thirty years ago. He became en-amored of the story. He borrowed money to reach Carriboo, as he had fallen on evil days and was penni-less. When he arrived he was laughed at for coming so far to a worked-out diggings. He went up to the Horsefly Creek, though he was warned not to, owing to the difficulty in getting supplies, and was told that no white man had strate the relative sizes of the limbs as they ought to be.

"For example," she said, "twice round my thumb"—she held it up—"once round my wrist, once round my meek; twice round my neck, once round my waist,—" Here she paused, and a shrill voice from the audience exclaimed, "one round Hyde Park" in the lecturer hastily passed on to another branch of the subject.—

So the Horsefty Creek, though he was warned not to, owing to the difficulty in getting supplies, and was told that no white man had was told that no white man had gone before him,—and his first pan yielded $2.
