LOCAL NEWS.

Union Sunday School next Sunday at 10.30 a. m. German preaching service at 3 o'clock, p. m.

Annual meeting of the Wellesley Public Library in Opera House on next Monday evening at 8.30.

Mr. John B. Schwartzentruber is enjoying an extended visit to Lancaster and other parts of Uncle Sam's domains.

Good square piano for sale. Price $75 cash. Must be sold at once as I am going away. Miss FLORA McK. BOYD, Crosshill.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Litwiler, of Amish, Iowa, are enjoying a visit among Mr. Litwiler's numerous friends in this section of Canada.

Mr. Peter Bordux returned to his home in Wellesley last week, having concluded his engagement with Mr. Jacob B. Miller, butcher, in Baden.

Mr. Moses C. Bechtel of Plumm Conlee, Man., is enjoying a visit to his friends here. He has been absent from Wellesley for about 10 years.

Miss Lilian Stretton, of Toronto Junction, has again taken charge of form II. in the public school here, after a few months' absence while attending the Normal.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Becker, who have been spending the Xmas holidays with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Koehler, returned on Wednesday to their home in Wiarnton.

Mr. E. F. Klein left on Tuesday morning last to resume his duties in the mail order department of the T. Eaton Co., Toronto, after spending his holidays with his parents here.

Mr. Jas. Short, near Linwood, took to the Twin-City Christmas market what was probably the biggest porker ever delivered there. The barrow weighed no less than 910 pounds. He also delivered at the same time five Leicester lambs aggregating 700 pounds weight. Mr. Short has just reason to be proud of this record.

Many friends in this section of Mr. John Birmingham, who lives just north of the village, were surprised on Tuesday last when he drove into town with one whom he had that morning made his bride. The young lady with whom he joined heart and hand was a Miss Bannon, of Stratford, and the young couple will take up their residence on a farm near Mr. Birmingham's former home. The groom is well known and popular in these parts, having been a much valued player on the Wellesley and Crosshill football teams, and the Maple Leaf joins with his many friends in wishing the young couple a long and happy married life.

so that by eight o'clock, or a few minutes after, the agony was over. The victors were duly happy while the vanquished accepted their defeat in good spirit, and the I-told-you-so's explained the reason for the majorities at the various polls.

NOTES OF THE FRAY.

When the votes were counted on Monday evening the discovery was made that Beggs was short and Short wasn't.

If Mr. Short wasn't so modest he would need a No. 9 hat these days. Wellesley's compliments to Hawkesville; and, please, you didn't "plump" Lichty out this time.

Mr. Beggs was badly defeated but he went down with colors flying, and has nothing to be ashamed of.

That Bamberg roorback was a foolish one, but it was deadly. Mr. Ferdinand Walter, warden, came to Wellesley about noon on Monday and quickly quashed the rumor that he was working against this division. As a matter of fact he had been confined to his home by illness from Monday to Saturday. Not many here seriously believed the rumor.

By eight o'clock the Maple Leaf had an "extra" out giving the complete figures for the township. The new councillors will be "sworn in" next Monday at Crosshill, and immediately afterwards hold their first meeting for the year.

Mr. Huehn was heavily handicapped in living so far east and having so many candidates in his ward. He made a good councillor last year, and came very near being elected this time.

Mr. Kerr was generous with his "morphia" at the nominations, but managed to save enough for himself. Mr. Lichty nearly got an overdose.

Crosshill wouldn't "plump" a little bit or it would read "Councillor Campbell" next Monday.

"Little Jakey" put up a good fight for so big a field.

Put this copy of the Maple Leaf away carefully. You'll want the figures of this vote next time there is a contest.

Now let there be a big funeral, and bury the batchet deep.

CHARLEY'S ALL RIGHT.

The Nashua (N. H.) Daily Press, in its magnificent Christmas number, has the following to say of a well known and popular Wellesley boy: "Prof. Chas. Heipel, principal of the Nashua School of Business, is a Canadian and came here from Concord, where he had been in charge. As may be seen from the accompanying photograph he is a handsome, clean-cut and up-to-date young fellow. He is one of the finest penmen of America and his many beautiful and artistic designs are well worth many miles' walk to see."

"THE MAN FROM GLENGARRY."

All Canada is indebted to the publishers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, for it has just leaked out that that great paper has secured the serial rights of that most absorbing story, "The Man from Glengarry," by Rev. Chas. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, who writes under the nom de plume of "Ralph Connor." The publication, we learn, will begin in a week or two, just as soon as the Family Herald Subscription Department have entered the thousands of renewal subscriptions that have poured into that office during the past week or two. Family Herald readers are to be congratulated. They will certainly get the year's subscription price in this story alone.

Miss Thero Mayer has returned home from her visit in Berlin.
