This is the greatest combination offer ever made by any Canadian journal, and we are fortunate in securing the exclusive privilege to this district. The latter feature, one of our daily great papers, established in 1856, it has long been the leading Liberal paper of Eastern Canada. It is now a great family newspaper each day giving full news of the world, and including much space to matters of peculiar interest to the family. Its commercial intelligence is complete and reliable.
THE KING'S PORTRAIT is the best ever published in Canada, and will make a handsome addition to the walls of any library. It is produced by a new process, and is not out of its place in any collection of portraits so common.
As the regular price of The Herald is $3.00 a year, the liberality of our offer is self-evident.

CROSSHILL

June 2nd, 1902
Mr. Alex. Frame left this week to occupy a position in Berlin. The best wishes of his many friends go with him.

Miss L. Webster spent a few days holidaying in Stratford.
Mr. Robt. Leighton, of Waterloo, was a visitor at W. K. Leighton's on Monday.

Willie McCallum, of Galt, enjoyed a week's holidays at his home.
Mr., Mrs. and Miss Cohoe, of Wellesley, spent Sunday with friends in the village.

Mrs. Alex. Meyer presented her happy "worse half" wish a fine little daughter whose many friends are still celebrating the occasion.
One of the "Jogging Johnnies" spent Sunday evening out west. If he does it again his full name will be inserted in the Leaf.

Election day, was very quietly observed here to-day. The Court of Revision and Council met which enlivened the dull state of affairs.
On Sunday evening a person who answered to the name of Jack, and who cannot be called a gentleman, molested two quiet young ladies who were out driving. Things certainly have come to a pretty pass when such misbehaviour occurs. If Mr. J. again indulges in what he calls a harmless pun, the blank will be properly filled out and the gentleman shall find himself in a position not much to his liking.

The following is the Honor Roll for pupils of Crosshill school for the month of May. The figures indicate the per cent taken in class marking and attendance.
Fourth Class.—Ella Rennie, 89; Vera Frame, 53; Clara Hergott, 51.
Senior Third.—Alice Snider, 92; Jennie Hergott, 88; Lulu McCollum, 85; Bessie Playford, 83; Ella Campbell, 80; Jennie Campbell, 75.
Junior Third.—Maggie Anticknap 89; Alice Hastings, 87; Emma Shantz, 70; Rachel Boshart, 60.
Second Class sr.—Fannie Boshart 75.
Second Class jr.—Agnes Beilstein, 80; Willie Foster, 79; Moses Zehr, 78; Christian Gerber, 60; Nathaniel Hergott, 53; Thomas Wilford, 48.

LINWOOD.
June 2nd, 1902
Mr. Montgomery and his sister of Wroxeter are sojourning at the home of Miss E. Montgomery.
Miss Nohma M. Manser, daughter of Mr. John Manser, Pearl Ave. Toronto, is visiting her uncle and aunt Dr. and Mrs. Manser.
A few of our local C. O. F. members attended a Forester's funeral at North Mornington, yesterday.
Rev. and Mrs. Monsinger left today for Smithville, where Mrs. Monsinger will remain for a couple of weeks while Mr. Monsinger attends Conference in Woodstock.
Mr. S. Rennie had an addition raised to his barn on Friday last. A large number of people were present and a very pleasant time was spent in the evening.
The waggons coming to the cheese factory are beginning to be very heavily loaded. The farmers are awake to their best interests.
A lawn tennis club has been organized in the village and has already a large membership. A fairly good lawn has been secured and is gradually being put into shape. The president of the club is Mr. A. Rennie, and the secretary Miss Della Berlet. Linwood has always been successful in any sports undertaken, and this new feature is not likely to be any exception to the general rule.

Miss Rooner and Miss Baldwin attended a very successfully carried out program of May-Day exercises in the 13th line school, on Saturday last. Miss King is the teacher of the school and is to be congratulated on the success of her undertaking.
The spring crops are looking fine hereabouts.
Ice cream parlor open every Saturday evening at V. R. Berlet's.

FRITH LINE.

June 2nd, 1902
Potatoes and turnips are now all in the ground. Spring grains are coming up nicely, while fruit blossoms indicate a splendid yield. The slight frosts have apparently done no damage whatever.
One of our farmers has a gate in front of his place, but no fence. The gate is kept shut.
Mr. Jos. Gerber has had a fine new wind motor placed on his farm recently. It will be a great improvement and convenience to him.
Mr. Henry Hostettler is erecting a new bridge across the creek, in one of his fields.
Mr. John K. Hammond is preparing a gravel pit for the use of the pathmasters, who are about to call the men out for statute labor.
Quite a number of our farmers delivered fat steers at Newton station last Saturday, for export. Mr. Wismer, cattle buyer, was the purchaser.

Mr. John K. Hammond is putting up 100 rods of wire fence with the Carter machine. The wires are coil spring, woven with stays one foot apart, which only costs 31c per rod. Among the others who are putting up wire fences are: Sol. Leis, 60 rods; Hy. Hostettler, about 100 rods; Jas. F. Hammond, about 100 rods; and Wm. Richardson, 60 rods. The fifth line farms will soon be all wire fenced.

Miss Clara McMillan, from Stratford, called on her sister, our teacher, last week.
Mr. and Mrs. David Wagler visited friends and relatives in Mornington and Elice on Sunday.
Mr. James Kyle has taken his brother Adam's place at home while the latter is attending at the bedside of their sick brother, John, in Manitoba. We are glad to report that John is improving.

Mr. John F. Lichty is shortly to have a powerful windmill erected on his farm.
War on the thistles has again begun.

DOERING'S CORNERS.

Mr. Waghforth had his barn raised on Saturday and everything went off good. Mr. Waghforth left for Woodstock yesterday and will return to-day.
Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Schatz from Zurburg's corners were the guests of L. Schmidt on Sunday.
Mrs. Henry Stein from Berlin is visiting friends in this vicinity.
Rev. Laugholtz will leave for Wisconsin, U.S., for a week tamer on Tuesday to visit his father.
Rev. Dexel will preach in Philippsburg next Sunday from Listowel.
Mr. John Hammer was visiting at John Handstein's on Snyders road east of Philippsburg.
Our neighborhood was shocked when the news spread that Mrs. John Heipel from Wellesley, had died so suddenly. Mrs. Heipel was well liked in this neighborhood, NITHBURG.

Editors Note.—Messrs. Ed. Hoffmeier and Henry Cook informed us, that the item concerning them in last week's Nithburg news, under the heading "from another correspondent" was entirely untrue as they took no such trip, and that they intend to follow the matter up. We have no sympathy with a correspondent who uses "gags" to injure his neighbors. The Map's Leaf was entirely innocent in the matter as the paragraph appeared to be an ordinary item of news.
The Boer war is over at last, the terms of peace having been signed by all the Boer generals. The arrangements are very liberal to the Boers, who are to have peaceable possession of their property and the right vote the same as any other British subject.
Stratford Collegiate Institute football club won form Tavistock 1 to 0 a close game last Friday evening at Tavistock. The return game is to be played on the Stratford grounds this (Thursday) evening.

EDITORIAL NORES.

Now for the Referendum!

Ross will have to try and struggle along with the affairs of government for another four years before the Mail-and-Empire sweeps him out of power again.

Mr. Breithaupt, the defeated candidate in North Waterloo, has nothing to be ashamed of. He made a strong, clean, hard fight from start to finish, and escapes from the various political contests he has been plunged into the past few years without a personal enemy.

Dr. Lackner, too, put forth a splendid effort, and not the least of his successes was that he came out of the contest with more personal friends than when he went into it.

Looking at the North Waterloo battle ground after the fight is over it appears that the Conservative success was assured from the beginning but analysis of the various polls indicates that the tremendous majority rolled up for Dr. Lackner was as much the indifference of Reform electors as anything else.
In the Wellesley village poll this is quite apparent from the fact that the Reform majority at the previous election was greater (114) than the entire Reform vote cast here last Thursday (111). There has not been the first hint of corruption from either side in this contest and North Waterloo has established the fact that when outsiders are kept away a clean election is always the result.

The township of Wellesley is putting up an unusual amount of wire fencing this year. The opinions expressed by our correspondent in last week's Maple Leaf seem to be the opinions of the farmers at large, so that the council need have no fears if they take a decided stand on the winter roads question.

The assessed value of Wellesley last year was $2,100,000. This year it is $2,507,000, in round numbers.
This means an increase of 33 1/2 percent. So far as the raising of money for township and school purposes is concerned it matters but little what the assessed value is, as the rate is always struck to produce a certain amount of money for these purposes. But when the county council deals with the matter of procuring the money they require the assessed value of a municipality makes a good deal of difference. County Councillor Walter has always been successful in his efforts to save money for the township he represents, but with the assessed value of his township suddenly increased by $700,000 he will have an herculean task before him to convince his colleagues at the county Board that the county tax of Wellesley township should not be increased in proportion to its new assessed value.

It Was a Monkey.
I was invited, along with other Europeans on the bench, to one of the big gest plays that have been seen in Opera. At the feast all kinds of fish, fowl and soup, cooked after the native fashion, were served. Every one thoroughly enjoyed the feast until, near to the finish, the chaser (dessert) was brought in.
This dish they called palm oil chop.
While it was being served there rolled out of the vessel what to all appearance was a human skull. Suddenly all the Europeans turned pale, as though suffering from an acute attack of sea-sickness, and the symptoms they developed were identical, for that dinner would not stay down.

The chief, in alarm, inquired what had made his friends so ill. One of the sufferers, whose eyes protruded from their sockets, and afraid to trust himself to speak, placed his handkerchief to his mouth and jerked his thumb in the direction of the skull.
The chief grasped the situation and with unaffected concern tried to comfort his sick guests by saying: "It be all right. He be no man. He be monkey!"

An Expressive Postscript.

A curious postscript was once added to a letter by General Israel Putnam
A spy named Palmer, sent by Sir Henry Clinton, the British commander, had been detected artfully collecting information of the force and condition of the post at Peckskill and had undergone a military trial. A vessel of war came up the Hudson in all haste and landed a flag of truce at Verplanck's point, by which a message was transmitted to Putnam from Clinton claiming the said Palmer as a lieutenant in the British service. Putnam replied:

Headquarters, Aug. 7, 1777.
Edward Palmer, an officer in the enemy's service, was taken as a spy lurking within our lines. He has been tried as a spy and shall be executed as a spy, and his flag is ordered to depart immediately.
ISRAEL PUTNAM.
P. S.—He has accordingly been executed.

OBITUARY.

It is our painful duty to record the death of Mrs. (widow) Heipel, which occurred on Friday evening last, shortly after six o'clock. She had been in her usual good health until the preceding evening while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ottmann, when she was suddenly stricken with paralysis of a fatal type and from which she never rallied. Her only absent child, Prof. Chas Heipel, of the Nashua (New Hampshire) business college, was at once telegraphed for, but he had passed away before his arrival. The funeral occurred on Monday afternoon, the remains being laid away to rest in the Lutheran cemetery north of the village, in the presence of an immense concourse of friends, after which services were held in the church by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Hohn. Deceased was born in Germany on Feb. 15th, 1835, and three months later in that year her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Doering, emigrated to Canada and settled at Phillipsburg. Here the deceased lived with her parents until 1865, when she was married to the late John Heipel, the young couple taking up the bush lot, now the fine farm of their eldest son William at Doering's corners. Many years later they removed to the farm at New Prussia, now owned by a younger son, Mr. Geo. Heipel, remaining on this farm until 1893, when they retired from farming, moving to this village, where Mr. Heipel died about five years ago. Their family consisted of William at Doering's Corners; Adam (Councillor); Elizabeth, who died when three years old; Andrew; Clir-tim (Mrs. Peter Ottmann); John (George), and Charles. She was of a kind, lovable, disposition, and had a wide circle of warm friends, especially among the elder people of this section. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their loss.

BIG CARP.

Three years ago the Rod and Gun club placed 5,000 carp spawn in the Wellesley pond. These bulky fish seems to thrive well here. Last summer several were caught which weighed in the neighborhood of one pound each, but on Monday evening little James Freeborn captured one which weighed three pounds and twelve ounces. The fish are coarse grained and only of average flavor, and as they are of the "sucker" family they do not afford as much piscatorial pleasure as some of the many other varieties to be found in the waters hereabouts. The carp, however reaches very large proportions, these caught in the larger waters have been known to weigh over 25 lbs.

A VALUABLE TYPEWRITER.

Improvements Make It Worth Much More Than Its Original Cost. A New York bachelor author who writes on a machine wrote a note recently to a spinster authoress who still works 14' hand and incidentally called her attention to the fact that if she wished him to do so he would secure a machine for her at $5 per month, guaranteed to write poetry, able articles, fiction, etc. A day or so later he received a reply written in a beautifully clear, round hand to this effect:

My Dear Mr. —: This is my typewriting machine. Isn't it nice? It is called the Blank typewriter. It is sound, kind, in good repair, warranted to travel well in single harness, and if you do not say it is the nicest machine you ever knew I shall refuse to believe that you were born when knighthood was in flower. It is warranted, like yours, to write able articles, poetry and fiction with equal facility, but, unlike yours, it is not for sale at $5 a month. Its original cost was large, and I have put so many improvements on it since that I cannot dispose of it save at a considerable advance and even then should be unwilling to part with it except to a responsible person warranted to treat it with care.

At present the author is striving strenuously to become a millionaire so that he may secure the services of this infallible typewriter.

NILE RIVER MUD.

The Salvation of the Country in That Rainless District.

There is nothing to make one realize the importance of mud indeed like a journey up the Nile when the inundation is just over. You lounge on the deck of your dahabieh and drink in geography almost without knowing it. The voyage forms a perfect introduction to the study of mudology and suggests to the observant mind increasing you and me the real nature of mud as nothing else on earth that I know of can suggest it. For in Egypt you get your phenomenon isolated, as it were, from all disturbing elements.

You have no rainfall to bother you, no local streams, no complex denudation. The Nile does it all, and the Nile does everything. On either hand stretches away the bare desert, rising up in crag, rocky hills. Down the night runs the one long line of alluvial soil—in other words, Nile mud—which alone allows cultivation and life in that rainless district. The country passes itself absolutely on mud. The crops are raised on it, the houses and villages are built of it, the mud is matted with it, the very air is full of it. The crude brick buildings that disfigure in dust are Nile mud solidified, the red pottery of Assiout is Nile mud baked hard, the village in sass and chamras are Nile mud water-washed. I have even seen a ship's bulwarks neatly repaired with mud. It pervades the whole land, when wet, as mud undisguised; when dry, as duststorm.

Arabian Coffee.

The Arabian coffee-maker, having prepared his fire of charcoal and placed near it a large pot containing water, takes a few handfuls of green coffee berries, carefully culls out all imperfect berries and foreign substances and then places the best of the berries in an iron tiddle held over the fire. The berries are permitted to roast until they begin to smoke and are then, while still unsharred, placed in a small mortar and carefully brayed with a pestle closely fitting the cup of the mortar. The berries are not, however, reduced to a dust. While this process has been going on, a small pot has been half filled with tepid water from the large pot and placed over the fire. When the water in the small pot has begun to boil, the broken coffee berries are thrown in, and the boiling is permitted to go on for a short time, the decoction being stirred with a spoon when it shows signs of boiling over. The coffee is then served in small cups without cream or sugar.

Applying Epithets.

A Virginia statesman in Washington has two boys, about five and six years old respectively, who are not such "angel children" that they do not scarp occasionally. The family health is discussed in good deal by the parents in the presence of the youngsters, and the two evils held to be the very worst that can be feared are microbes and drafts. The other morning the boys got into a wrangle.

"Oh, you're a microbe," blissed the elder in his anger. That dreadful epithet had never been applied to the other before, and for a moment he was stunned by the insult. He tried to come back at his brother, but at first he was at a loss what to say. "You—you're another," he blurted out at last and then caught himself. "No, you ain't, either; you are a draft!" he exclaimed, and the scarp was on.

Capital and Labor.

The trouble between capital and labor is but in proportion to the ignorance of the employer and the ignorance of the employed. The more intelligent the employer, the better, and the more intelligent the employed the better. It is never education, it is never knowledge, that produces collision. It is always ignorance on the part of one or the other of the two forces. Speaking from an experience not inconsiderable, I make this statement. Capital is ignorant of the necessities and the just laws of labor, and labor is ignorant of the necessities and dangers of capital. That is the true origin of friction between them.—Carnegie's "Empire of Business."

Rest Before Meals.

The value of a slight rest before meals is, according to physicians, very great. Indigestion more often arises from eating when tired or excited than is understood. In his dietary for a consumptive patient a very well known specialist insists upon a full twenty minutes' rest before all meals except breakfast. Five minutes' complete rest, of mind as well as body, is none too much for the person of average health, and it should be taken regularly.

about 'plain duty'. What does it all mean?"

"That depends upon who uses the phrase. One's 'plain duty,' according to his own idea, is what he wants to do, and, according to the ideas of others, 't's what he doesn't want to do."

Shy on Change.

"Could you change a ten dollar bill for me, Henry?"
"Couldn't even change my mind this morning, my dear."

When the Sun Will Fall.

The total of the sun's heat is equal to that which would be required to keep up 47,000 millions of millions of millions of horsepower, or about 78,000 horsepower for every square yard, and yet the modern dynamical theory of heat shows that the sun's mass must fall in or contract thirty-five meters per annum to keep up that tremendous energy. At this rate of contraction the solar radius will be .01 per cent less in 2,000 years from now than it is today. According to these deductions, a time must come when the temperature must fall. This being the case, it is inconceivable that the sun will continue to emit heat sufficient to sustain animal life for more than 10,000,000 years longer.

Lawyers Advertise.

In spite of the prejudice among lawyers against straightforward advertising, says the Philadelphia Record, several members of the bar do advertise regularly in the newspapers. And they find that it pays. One lawyer in New York who puts $100 a week into newspaper advertising (exclusive of the Sunday journals) tells Printers' Ink that he would not stop advertising for the world. "If I should stop it," he adds, "I should expect to be forgotten. That such advertising pays I know from long experience. The ethics of the profession are largely an illusion—a bugaboo. No lawyer is ostracized because he advertises."

The Honest Statesman.

Some years ago an Englishman visited Washington and met a statesman belonging to the minority party who gave a most startling account of the corruption existing in the government and the terrible struggle he had had against it. "Do you mean to say, sir," asked the stranger seriously, "that you are the only honest man in the American government?" "Well," replied the statesman, stroking his beard meditatively, "I wouldn't go so far as that. There may be four or five more somewhere."

Steel Wire Ropes.

Steel wire ropes should be of crucible steel, having a breaking strength of seventy to seventy-six tons per square inch. Large pulleys are more necessary for wire than for hemp ropes, the smallest diameter permissible being 1,200 to 1,400 times the diameter of the wire in the rope if of iron and 2,000 times if of steel. For mining purposes wire ropes are best made with a hemp core, being more flexible.

Japanese Lacquer.

A piece of genuine Japanese lacquer costs the native artist almost a lifetime to perfect and is produced by hundreds of thin coats of lacquer laid on at considerable intervals of time, the value consisting rather in the labor bestowed than in the quality of the material used. First class lacquer work can scarcely be scratched by a needle.

His Best Friend.

Hewitt—I've lost my best friend.
Jewett—Why don't you advertise for it?
Hewitt—What do you mean?
Jewett—I thought you said you had lost your pocketbook.
