It is now a great family newspaper, each day giving full news of the world, and the latest and most interesting news of local interest to the family. Its commercial intelligence is complete and reliable.

THE KING'S PORTRAIT is the best ever published in Canada, and will be a handsome addition to the walls of any library. It is produced by a new process, and is not one of the faded colored portraits so common.

Those so-called "Crosshill mumps" seem to have crossed a lot of dumps but we suppose when the lumps disappear there will be no cause for dumps, and the mumps panic will be over.

WILNOT COUNCIL.

A meeting of the Wilnot town ship council was held in their hall, in Baden, on Sept. 15th. Members present Messrs. I. B. Ditner, Geo. Hohl and J. T. Otto. Mr. Ditner in the chair. Minutes of previous session were read and confirmed.

On motion by Messrs. Otto and Hohl council adjourned to hold a court of revision to hear complaints against the local assessment for street lighting in the village of Baden. Members present having made their respective declarations formed a court to hear appeals. Mr. Otto in the chair. After waiting a reasonable time and no appeal having been presented, it was moved by Mr. G. Hohl, seconded by Mr. I. P. Ditner, that as no appeals have been presented against the special assessment roll for electric light service in the village of Baden, this court of Revision hereby accepts the same assessment roll marked A as the roll upon which the special assessment for electric lighting in the village of Baden shall be based, and that this court shall now rise and council resume. I. B. Ditner in the chair.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Ditner, seconded by G. Hohl, that the action taken by the court of revision as above be and is hereby confirmed.—Carried.

The clerk presented the collector's bonds for acceptance. Moved by G. Hohl, seconded by J. T. Otto, that the collector's bonds having been examined by this council finds the same ample and satisfactory, and hereby authorize the clerk to deliver the collector's rolls to the respective collectors.—Carried.

Moved by J. T. Otto, seconded by G. Hohl, that the by-law for levying a special local improvement rate (for electric light in the village of Baden) be laid over until next session for the consideration of the whole council, and that the clerk do and is hereby authorized to keep back the collector's roll for Bloum, and Snider's road until the 21st October next.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Otto and Hohl the following accounts were ordered to be paid, viz:

FIFTH LINE

Sept. 22nd, 1902.
The Zion Presbyterian church has extended a call to Rev. Nell D. McKinnon, of Glenallan. The call has been accepted and arrangements are made for the induction to occur at Milverton next Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Corn cutting is now the order of the day and our silos will soon be filled.

Mr. Chas. Roley, who is employed by Mr. Henry Kelly, left this week, accompanied by his wife, for a short visit to relatives in Michigan.

Messrs. Jno. L. Erb and Noah Leis have had new silos built this year, and Mr. John Freeborn has just started the erection of one.

A HAKED HEADED FARMER.

The Way He Held Up a Prince With a Pitchfork.

When Edward VII. of England was an undergraduate at Oxford university, he had an adventure which led to a newspaper of that time to describe the prince as a prisoner. It said that "not very far from Oxford, at a place called Steeple Barton, there was a farmer named Hedges, a man of much independence of character, commonly known as 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges'."

"On one occasion the prince and his friends were out with the Scotts of Glendaloch, but, meeting with indifferent sport, they resolved on riding home across country. This they did, galloping over the lands of Farmer Hedges and presently riding into his farmyard. There they were confronted by the farmer himself, armed with a fork. He closed the gates and informed the party bluntly that they had been trespassing on his ground and trampling on his young wheat and that he would not allow one of them to leave his farmyard until he had paid a fine of a sovereign for the damage done."

"They whispered that the prince himself was of the party. 'Prince or no prince,' he replied shortly, 'I'll have my money!' There was little glory to be had by fighting a resolute farmer armed with a fork. They therefore made up their minds to pay, prince and all. When he had the money in his pocket, and not till then, 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges' opened the gates and let them go."

STRENGTH IN SOME FORM.

The Quality Above All Else That Women Admire In Men.

Women admire color and still more admire strength, though I regret to say they often endure ends in a way that belies their intelligence and good taste. They have a quite pathetic desire to look up to men, to feel men their superiors in strength of body and of mind, in calmness of judgment and clearness of intellect. And it is indeed a pity that men so often seem to go out of their way to destroy their most cherished illusions.

Above everything a woman admires strength in a man. It may be strength of body—she will worship a Hercules with the brain of a guinea pig. It may be strength of intellect—she will adore a servant with the body of a gibbon monkey. It may be strength of character—she will break her heart for a politician or a financier who is unswervingly wrapped up in dreams of personal advancement, and who possesses no more heart than an oyster. But strength in some form she craves unceasingly. It is a hereditary instinct that has been bequeathed to her through Eve's first disappointment when Adam was tried in the balance and found wanting. Woman, secretly conscious of her own physical weakness and lack of intellectual strength, demands strength from men, to make up for her own deficiencies. Even the strongest woman, strong in body and mind, well balanced as Athena herself, though they may shield and protect the weakness of the men they love and stoop to help them, will never do so without a secret feeling of craving which is destructive to all their aims. In spite of that deplorable start made by Adam, was intended to be woman's protector and refuge from all harm, upon whom she could lean and rely in every event of life's pilgrimage, and when the rules are reversed, as they often so unfortunately are, it is a hard thing both for man and woman. Strength, however is what woman loves in men.

Miss Breunier, of Berlin, is at present visiting at Mr. Gies'.

NEW HAMBURG FALL SHOW

This popular Fall Show was held last Thursday and Friday. The weather on the afternoon of the first day proved to be very unfavorable and as a consequence the entries were a little weak in some departments. On the whole, however, the inside show was very good, the ladies' department being one of the best for years. The outside exhibit was a record one, the horse ring show never having been eclipsed at this Fair. The attendance was good and the Fair this year was considered a success.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

October 15th has been set as the date for holding two of the Provincial election protest trials, South Oxford and East Middlesex. Then the real battle begins. And when all the protest trials are over we will find out what the Judges say the ballot boxes say, for "Ever the truth is uppermost, Ever is justice done."

But, oh! the harrowing details, a strained language to show corruption, that the Party newspapers will use! the columns and columns of "stuff" that will be printed to convince the reader that the other fellows are h-a-a-d men! the publication that will be supplied to speakers at a future election. Past experience shows that there is a nauseating season just before the reading public that will have to be waded through, and a loading up of street-corner harangues that will pollute the air for months to come.
 Let us hope, for the sake of clean election language, that protest trials will soon be ordered to be held behind closed doors and only the Judges' decisions made public.
 Not that so much corruption will be unearthed, but to prevent the Party papers from defaming our country in the eyes of the world by magnifying a technical offence into a mountain of so-called intentional fraud.

The great Methodist conference at Winnipeg recently is now over.
 A noticeable feature of the occasion was the warm greeting of fellowship which was extended to the representatives of the many different denominations who attended the grand reception. From the remarks made it would seem that the line which divides Methodism and Presbyterianism is now about invisible and only "the touch of a match" is required to melt the two great bodies into one. The forming of a union of this kind would be a grand opportunity to remedy some of the mandates in the articles of faith and in the church discipline of both these religious bodies, which now seem objectionable and yet which are along such delicate lines that it is impossible to make the alterations which so many desire. A new Church, based on the highest and most modern knowledge of the bible, would advance Christianity by leaps and bounds.

Toronto has won the Eastern League base ball championship, but with Buffalo so close on their heels that it took the last innings of the last games to decide in which city the pennant would fly.

The air is full of railway talk in this section. The time is ripe and the people are ready. But there is a lot of preliminary work to be done in the way of getting a charter, etc., before we know just where we are at. Berlin is awake to the fact that a road running from Wellesley south, via Baden, New Hamburg and Dundee would cut the county town any good; at our southern friends are hampering away at the project, and may give something definite before Berlin is ready. The people here show a preference for a southern connection, but that point is not of vital importance so long as the road opens a market route to the seaboard, while the possibilities of the Berlin beet sugar refinery has undoubtedly attractions for our money making farmers.

So little has been heard of the Baden beet sugar factory this summer that people began to think it was abandoned. Now we are informed that preparations have been quietly going on and are now about completed, so that work on the building operations will likely be started this fall.

Berlin is holding a triple-industrial celebration on October 9th and 10th. Besides the North Waterloo Fall Show, which occurs on those days, the County town will rejoice over the official opening of the Berlin-Preston street railway and the beet sugar refinery.

He Was Dead.
 The English papers tell this story of an incident in a revision court: A certain person who figured on the register was objected to by one of the agents on the ground that he was dead.
 The revising barrister declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

Thereupon the agent of the other side rose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the gentleman in question.
 "And pray, sir, how do you know the man's dead?" demanded the barrister.
 "Well," was the reply, "I don't know.
 It's very difficult to prove."
 "As I suspected," returned the irate barrister. "You don't know whether he's dead or not."
 The barrister glanced triumphantly around the court. His expression gradually underwent a change as the witness coolly continued:
 "I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he is dead or not, but I do know this—they buried him about a month ago on suspicion."

Donkeys in Mexico.
 There are two classes of donkeys in Mexico—one with four feet and the other with two. Each is a kind of competitor of the other. Sometimes they are partners. They are both bearers of burdens and the subjects of brutality. Everywhere you see the donkey loaded down with sacks of ore, baskets of dirt, cans of milk, sacks of water, and you find his driver very often loaded in the same way. These combinations sometimes go two by two, and sometimes there will be a load of ten to fifty thus loaded, coming down the mountains with ore, charcoal or wood, corn or whatever may be needed in the villages or cities.
 It is indeed a medieval life in middle and southern Mexico.

The Way of the Frontier.
 The way of civilization in a new land passes comprehension. Its motto seems to be "It'll first; there is time afterward to save." Civilization is a good deal like a wild, full blooded boy—it must first sow wild oats, waste its patri-mony, disgrace its antecedents; then it is ready to begin the serious work of life. That has been the history of the range country—swift ruin for thirty or forty years, with a resulting wreck that it will require a century of hard work, perseverance and self control to save.—Itay Stannard Baker in Century.

Siamese Tobacco.
 The best tobacco in Siam is grown at Petchabun. It is planted in open fields near the town after the floods in September or October, and the first crop, or tips, which is considered the best quality, is gathered about February and the last about the beginning of May. The very best quality cannot be purchased, as it is reserved for the special use of the king and sent down to Bangkok, where it is smoked in the palace and distributed to the chief officers of state.

Cemetery Monuments.
 What is more sadly comic or incongruous than the imposing medley of stone and marble in a great cemetery?
 The towering columns loom over the resting places of such small citizens.
 The "dove of peace" alights where it would never find a nest of its free will. The guardian angel bends over the vixen's tomb, while mediocre bits of slate denote the graves of many saintly and gifted pilgrims.

A Cheerful Wait.
 A laborer applied to the foreman at some building's workshop for a job:
 "Can you do anything for a poor fella at all in the shape or work?" Foreman—Oh her notwin' the day.
 Cum back again. There is a drunken carpenter workin' on the top, and O'm' walth' in' every mill till he falls and gits killed.

 Ignorant and unscrupulous agents, hand-frequently known to make baseless statements against this truly excellent instrument, knowing that whatsoever the Nordheimer is offered for sale and merit is left to win, their chances of selling their poorer class of Pianos is gone. Of course those same sellers know there is a much larger profit in selling the cheap pianos as is evidenced by the fact that they never sell two at the same price but take all they can get from every one they deal with. Every

AN EXPERIMENT.

For the next few weeks—during the balance of the dull harvest season—we propose issuing the Maple Leaf in its present 4-page form with a view of getting the feeling of our subscribers as to a local paper being devoted to home news without regard to the size of sheet. If the experiment meets with general approval the price of the paper will be lowered and arrangements made for low-priced clubbing rates with Canada's big newspapers. We will be glad to get the candid opinions of our subscribers on this matter.
