EDITORIAL NOTES.

Is Thanksgiving Day dropping out of 'fashion' in Canada? One would almost think so from the luxury in which it was observed this year. Very little pains appear to have been taken to announce the date, so that the mass of the people scarcely learned it until the time was past, while those who knew the date gave it little or no attention. Is it possible that Canadians have been receiving good harvests so steadily every year that they look upon them as a right instead of something to be thankful for? Or is it that the Government has been yanking Thanksgiving Day backward and forward in the calendar of the past few years trying to find a date upon which the busy Canadians can stop work long enough to coddle their hats for a grateful moment, until at last the people have lost track of the day. Whatever the cause is the fact remains that this has been the most prosperous year in the history of Canada, and the year that the day of thanksgiving has been the most disgracefully neglected.

The Tilsonburg & Collingwood Railway is a new aspirant for a place on the map of Ontario. It proposes to stretch between those places, and Stratford, Embou, Wellesley, Arthur, etc., are possibly to be touched. For almost its entire length it will cut through a territory not otherwise served, and will form a convenience in travel that has long been wanting in the "Peninsula of Ontario." The Company is beginning aggressive operations, and a meeting is to be held in Stratford this week to see what the Company propose.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Minister of Public Works, resigned his portfolio last week and is now "out of it." The trouble seems to have been that he talked too much. Now the "great leading" political papers which have been throwing mud at Tarte for six years past are busy scraping it off, while the papers which are supporting him during that time are slyly backing up to the nearest mud-holes and getting their pitching arms in condition. How Tarte will handle his bat under this change of pitchers is of little importance if the public only learn through it the lesson that the "na" party newspapers are not the true leaders of honest politics.

A couple of good stories are going the rounds just now to show that the English public who know little or nothing of Canada are being taught. An Englishman asked if food drinks were known in Canada. He was promptly informed that all drinks had to be thawed before drinking in Canada. The Britisher was also informed that in Canada children's hair is never cut as it is in England, with shears, but that the parent simply brush it pompidor, poured on a little water, and stood the child outdoors for a few seconds until it froze, then took a club and knocked the hair off the child's head

Apple buyers speak encouragingly of the crop through the Province, which they say is much better than was expected earlier in the season. Not only is it larger but the quality of the fruit has improved, the apples having filled out well and without serious blemish. The crop is pretty well distributed. Satisfactory reports are to be had from almost every section, and the dealers say that it now looks as if three times as many apples will be packed this year as were barreled last year. The price, however, is not so high, ranging from 50 cents to one dollar per barrel to the farmers, according to the kind and quality. On the other hand those who are buying by the barrel have no culls to handle and no risk to run from heavy winds.

THE NORDHEIMER

IS ONE OF THE MOST Reliable Pianos Manufactured In Canada.

It is made in the Nordheimer Piano Factory, by the most skilled workmen that money can hire, and is recognized everywhere as the

Leading Piano of THIS COUNTRY

Important and unscrupulous agents, banding very often a low class of Pianos, are frequently known to make business statements against this truly excellent instrument, knowing that whereas the Nordheimer is offered for sale and merit is left to win, their chances of selling their poorer class of Pianos is gone. Of course those same leaders know there is a much larger profit in selling the cheap pianos as is evidenced by the fact that they never sell two at the same price, but take all they can get from every one they deal with. Every NORDHEIMER PIANO HAS A STRAIGHT & TRUSTED PRICE.

The lowest that such quality can conscientiously be sold at. YOU KNOW that your money buys as good value as any other make.

AN EXPERIMENT.

For the next few weeks—during the balance of the dull harvest season—we propose issuing the Maple Leaf in its present 4-page form with a view of getting the feeling of our subscribers as to a local paper being devoted to home news without regard to the size of sheet. If the experiment meets with general approval the price of the paper will be lowered and arrangements made for low-priced clubbing rates with Canada's big newspapers. We will be glad to get the candid opinions of our subscribers on this matter.

LOCAL NEWS.

WANTED—Agents to canvass for publishing house. Straight salary and Liberal terms. Apply to W.M. Reade, Barrister, Waterloo, Ont.

The present staff of teachers of the Wellesley school have all been engaged for next year. Three of them have received a well-deserved increase of $25 in their salaries.

A shooting match for turkeys and geese is to be held at St. Clements next Thursday. Some Wellesley sports will likely attend and take part in the clay-bird shoot which is to be held in connection.

The other day Mr. A. B. Robertson sold a thorough-bred Durham calf to Mr. Alex. Crerar, of Lisbon, for $95. This is considered a handsome price, especially as the calf was only two weeks old.

Union Sabbath School will be held at 10:30 a. m., next Sunday. Preaching service in English at 7 p. m., probably conducted by the new Presiding Elder of the Evangelical Association, Rev. Mr. Knechtel.

Mr. John Miller, sr., is lying dangerously ill at his home in this village and his end is very near. LATER.—Mr. Miller passed away at 11 o'clock this (Thursday) morning. The funeral will occur on Monday afternoon next at 2 p. m.

MONEY LOST.—$5 Reward.—On Saturday evening, Oct. 4th, between the Albion hotel, Wellesley village, and my home, lot 23, con. 13, North Easthope, a pocket-book containing between $45 and $50, in tens, fives and smaller bills. The finder will receive the above reward on leaving it at the Albion hotel or with me. JAS. DORRERTY, Topping.

This week Mr. Will Dingwall moved into the residence vacated by his brother, and we understand Mr. Henry Bickert is soon to occupy the building from which Mr. Dingwall has just moved, at the rear of the knitting factory.

The mud and the intermittent showers make out-door occupations anything but pleasant these days.

Mr. J. G. Reiner was absent the fore part of this week on a business and pleasure trip to Neustadt and other northern places. He is expected home today.

A mock parliament is being organized in the village. Mr. E. L. Bice has the affair in charge and it is expected that the first session be held early in November.

DOG LOST.—A hound with a black-and-tan head and one white eye. Rest of the dog white color. The finder will be suitably rewarded.

ARTHUR SMITH, Millbank P. O. The special meetings in the Union church will be brought to a close with to-morrow evening's meeting. Rev. Mr. Eby has been assisting Rev. Mr. Draper all this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Doersam, of Melph spent Saturday and Sunday last the guests of relatives and friends here. They are so well pleased with their Guelph home but Mr. Doersam has disposed of his brick residence on School street now occupied by Mr. Bice. Mr. John Daub, of Baden, is the purchaser and we understand he intends shortly to return to Wellesley to reside.

MONTEITH UNSEATED.

The North Perth election trial came to a sudden ending in Stratford this week, the seat being declared vacant. It seems that a Mr. Fraser, who had lived and voted in Stratford for 30 years moved to North Easthope recently. Believing that his voting place was still in Stratford, he went to that place on election day and finding his name on the list he cast his vote for Monteith. Later in the day the real Mr. Fraser came to vote and found it had been cast by the North Easthope man. He then voted a tendered ballot. At the trial the North Easthope man's vote was thrown out and the tendered ballot was counted for Mr. Brown. As Monteith's majority was only 2 this led the election a tie, and rather than incur the heavy expense of continuing the trial the case was withdrawn by consent of both parties, so the seat was declared vacant and a new election will have to be held. No corruption was found and the candidates were complimented on the clean election they had held.

CALLING UPON A FRIEND.

The Way in Which Two English Actors Once Paid a Visit.

Here is an amusing story of Messrs. Toole and Brough, the English comedians. Having appeared conjointly in a drama, "Dearer Than Life," in which they wore very ragged, woebegone costumes, they visited the well known artists Fradelle and Marshall to be photographed in their rags. While waiting "between the plates" Toole, who was fond of a drink, suggested to his brother comedian to call upon and call upon a certain mutual acquaintance, who would be horribly shocked at receiving visitors in such a garb. Brough at once assented, and, popping on their battered hats, out into the street the pair slipped and made for the house of their friend. Of course the neat housemaid and the neat Buttons were horrified and declined even without being asked to purchase matches or the like.

"I axes your pardon," said Toole in an assumed tone. "You're making a slight mistake. We want to see your master." And he mentioned the gentleman's Christian name and that of his wife.

"We have important business with him," chimed in Brough.

The girl's face wore a dazed aspect, and she said: "Mister never sees the likes of you at his house. He's most particular, ain't he, Charles?" appealing to the page. "You must be making a mistake."

"Oh, no, we ain't," responded Toole with supreme gravity. "But I'm sorry William—the Christian name of the gentleman—is out. I haven't got a card about me," pretending to fumble among his rags, "but tell your master that his two cousins from the work-house called as they were passing through London."—London Tit-Bits.

PENNY POSTAGE.

The Incident That Led to its Establishment in England.

Many years ago, when Queen Victoria first began to reign, it cost immense to send a letter from one English city to another. In those days the postage was not paid by the sender of the letter, as is now customary, but by the receiver. So, of course, there were many poor people who could not afford to pay nineteen p when their mail arrived, and it often happened that they were obliged to forfeit the letters.

One day a man named Rowland Hill was riding on the outskirts of a city, and he saw a postman bring a letter to a young girl and demand alms for it. The girl took the letter, scrutinized it carefully and then handed it back to the man, saying she could not afford to pay the postage. Thereupon Rowland Hill, being a kind hearted man, rode up and insisted upon paying it himself. When the postman had gone, the girl confessed to her benefactor that the letter was from her lover, and to avoid paying almsence on every letter he made certain marks on the envelope which she alone could decipher.

"But," said Rowland Hill, "don't you know you are doing something very dishonest in thus cheating the government?"

The girl admitted she did, but there was no other way to do.

Hill rode away and meditated over this little incident, and his far famed idea of "penny postage" was the result. At first he was laughed at by every one, but he fought bravely and finally was rewarded by seeing his idea in practice all over the land.

The Reversible Pursuit.

Paul—Percy, what is your idea of success?
Percy—My idea of success? Well, it is having people run after me who used to run away from me.

Ever think that Death has no manners? When the plate is passed to him, he is pretty apt to take the choicest thing on it.

One's own words are very sweet until one is forced to eat them.—Edith's double record.

Of More Importance.

"Get my name right," said the proud owner of the 1,175 pound hog. "It's Judson K. Bimm. My father was Colonel Hiram Hotchkiss Bimm of Lexington, Ky. He came to Illinois in the year."

"Never mind that" interrupted the secretary of the fat stock show "Give us the pedigree of the hog."
