AN OLD LANDMARK

Early settlers of Waterloo county will remember the large frame the large frame port for the last half-century or more. It was about the year 1847 that Ephriam Shupe, (son of one of the original Mennonites from Pennsylvania who settled in that part of Waterloo (ownssip) built a dam across the Grand River just above where the big railway bridge n w stands. Just below this dam, on the Preston side of the river, and close to the w., ter's edge, he erected a large pail factory which he operated for six or eight years until the injury to the dam by the spring freshets rendered the busi ness unsatisfactory, and the large building was moved, about 1855, to the spet in the village it has occu-pied ever since, just opposite the road which leads up the river bank. A dozen or more ox teams, which were then plentiful, were used in hauling the immense structure up the street on rollers. The old mill race could be seen on the bank for years and the last of the stone years and the ast of the stone stone foundation disappeared when the piers of the railway bridge were build. After its removal the building has been put to many uses, it has been an hotel, a cheese factory, an academy, a tenement and a boarding house, and has worn itself out in usefulness until the present proprietor has condemned it so that it will soon cease to be a link joining the modern Freeport to the "Toll-bridge" of the days a-gone.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Bill is having a hot time in the Dominion parliament. The big and little guns of the Opposition party have been turned upon it The heavily, while the Government forces are defending it strenuously The fiercest battle is being fought around the fact that the proposed road will parallel the Intercolonia! for a long distance and thus injure the business of the Government's present road. There is also a warm engagement over the wisdom of subsidizing a road through a vast territory which has never been surveyed and which is practically unknown. The Government forces are arguing that this new road will assist in opening up the Northwest and thus enrich the Dominion. The Bill will, no doubt, finally pass the

It has long been understood that a sort of agreement existed be tween the C. P. R. and G. T. R. t the effect that so long as the latter refrained from invading the North west the former would not press for competing lines in Ontario. But now that the Grand Trunk Pacific railway scheme apparently ends this agreement it is rumored that the C. P. R. is behind many of the present Ontario electric and steam projects which are shortly to tup sections which have hither to been at the not-too-sweet mercy of the Grand Trunk system

This cannot full to have a beneficial effect upon business in Ontario With the Niagara power scheme accomplished and the network of opposition railways now proposed Ontario bids fair to become an idea spot for manufacturing cheaply The manufacturer will turn long-ing eyes towards the Mecca where waterways, railways and power are plenty and cheap.

The "redistribution" of Waterloo is not yet accomplished but there is every reason to believe it will finally pass the House and Senate. A general stirring up of our local politicians is already noticeable, especially as the possibility looms up that the Ross Government may adopt the same electora division lines for Provincial pur-poses. The territory of the new Bouth Riding is very large, and the people are scarcely acquainted with each other as yet Anxiety is al-ready awakening as a Dominion election is not improbable in the very near future, and if the Conservatives induce Mr. Seagram to stand for the new constituency, or select a strong country candidate (the editor of the Maple Leaf, for instance!) the Reformers will require to make a careful choice of a candidate in order to retain the natural majority which the "new South" is now supposed to be able to give.

A good story is now going the rounds, of three stalwart, well-armed burglars who attempted to rob a farmer, but were beaten off by the hired man, who explained that the burglars were encroaching that the burglars were encroaching on his territory. After the average Ontario farmer settles up with his hired man there is n't much left for burglars. Mr. Andrew Ellot, one of the most prominent farmers of North Dunfries, atuted at a Board of Trade meeting in Galt the other evening that a farmer near that town is paying his hired man no less than $45 per month and board. That farmer ought to be burglar proof.

Baved Ann a Ducking.
A colonial shrew who was threatened with the ducking stool was once saved

A colonial shrew who was threatened with the ducking shool was once saved by this plea:
"You wish to duck Ann Willott to cure her?" her defouder declered. "Now the was the cure all the women who now keep a guard overtheir tongues through distants to be likened to such a known, notirious and contemptible secold as Ann will do so no longer; but although it is not like any should become such as she, yet all will scold a little more than now they do, the check of her example beling removed. Now, it is better that Ann. beling a single woman without family to afflict, should go unpunished and unducked, but despised by all, and wag her tongue as she will, atanding therein for the whole town, than that should he sitenced and the tongues of other women run more free?"

other women run more free."

This argument seems to have prevailed, for Ann Willot was never ducked.—Youth's Companion.

In a red tiled two story house on the road between Newcastle and Hexham, England, was born George Stephenson, the inventor of the first practical locomotive, on June 9, 1781. He carned bis motive, on June 9, 1781. He carried his first regular money—a shilling a week —for looking after cows, and he was eighteen before he learned to read. The modeling of engines in clay was his favorite occupation as a boy, and when favorite occupation as a boy, and when he grew up toward manihood he had charge of engines and displayed his inventive genius in their improvement. At last, in 1813, he produced his first locomotive, which he called a traveling engine. Lord Itavensworth was called a fool for advancing money for the construction of a locomotive. Lord Ravensworth was not so foolish as propile supposed, for In 1825 the Stockton and Darlington line was opened for truffic. lington line was opened for traffic.

The Electrical Current

The Electrical Current.
The path traversed by a heavy current of electricity in passing through the body is a matter of great importance. The most dangerous is from one hand to the other, because the seistance of the path is low and because the current passes near the beart. Hence it is a good rule in handling live conductors to use but one hand. An important rule to observe in rescuing a person in contact with a live wire and when it is impossible to cut off the current is to push the victim of with one foot. Even should the current pass from one foot to the other through the rescuer the resistance of the path is considerable, and as the current does not pass near the beart serious injury is not likely to result.

The following story is told in explanation of the reason why the teaching of chemistry in Turkish schools was forbidden some years ago. It had been proposed that this science should be added to the currelulum, but the first thing that strock the eyes of the ruler of the faithful on opening an elementary textbook of chemistry was the formula for water, H2 O. "Here." said the suitan, "is proof of a complicacy to undermine my authority in the eyes of my subjects. H two Ol. That's nothing but a sly way of intimating that Hamid II. is a nught."

Mr. Hunter—Well, if it's roomy it surely can't be a flat; if it's really a flat it can't be roomy, and if by some ulracie it should be a roomy flat it wouldn't be "to let."

The old boys had been out of the game for a few years, but they lined up with the idea of showing the your sters that they haven't forgotten where the goal posts are. And they did it. The Juniors played their usual team, while the seniors lined up as follows.-Goal, Jule Eckstein Backs, Alex. Stahle, Will Dingwall Half-Backs, Peter Faulhafer, H. K. In the second half the Seniors were allowed a penulty kick which they turned into a goal—the only one scored. "Jule" Eckstein, our popular barber, surprised every body by his agllity as goal-keeper. imagined he was standing bet ween two striped barber poles, and he at-tended to a dozen or two "close shaves" with suprising dexterity-in fact it was Jule who "lathered" the youngsters.

Tuesday evening a fast Tavistock team was here. Four or five of the District Champions were on the line up and the visitors played very pretty combination which would have made them very popular but nave made them very popular out for McDonagh's roughness. Our boys were handicapped by the ab-sence of Wittig and Johnny Mayer, but they played sturdily, showing a great improvement in combina-tion, and held the speedy visitors to a draw.

Wellesley always wins—that is nearly always. This time they were three games to the good in four events. The Tavistock club sent four gentlemen to this village on Tuesday afternoon and some fine playing was done. The match really ended in a draw, each club winning two of the four events, as

The attention of Depositors is directed to the recent serious losses through failures of Private Banks and Loan Companies which offer, as an inducement to Customers, higher rates of interest. Beware of such. Remember that all Chartered Banks Pay the same rate, so only put your money into some strong institution like the WEST-ERN BANK OF CANADA whick, with its large Capital and Reserve together with its well defined assets of over $4,000,000.00, affords the most undoubted security to the Depositors.
