ALL FOR $1.75

This is the greatest combination offer ever made by any Canadian publication, and we are fortunate in securing the exclusive privilege for this district. The Daily Herald is one of Canada's great papers. Established in 1861, it has long been the leading Liberal paper of Eastern Canada. It is now a great family newspaper, each day giving full news of the world, and abounding much more in matters of popular interest to the family. Its commercial intelligence is complete and reliable.
THE KING'S PORTRAIT is the best ever published in Canada, and will make a handsome addition to the walls of any library. It is produced by a new process, and is not one of the ordinary portrait reproductions.
As the regular price of The Herald is $5.00 per year, the liberality of our offer is self-evident.

MANDURA

DIETRICH-KIESWETTER.
The marriage of Mr. Broctus Dietrich and Miss Mary, daughter of Mr. Jacob Kieswetter, just west of Hamburg, occurred on Tuesday, Rev. Fr. Agemans performed the ceremony at the church at St. Agatha after which the party returned to the house where the wedding dinner was served. The bride received a splendid array of wedding gifts. A most enjoyable time was spent and the gathering broke up showering good wishes upon the newly married pair.

Coral of Our Own Coast.
It is a common notion that coral is found only in tropical and subtropical waters and that no coral reefs are to be found along our own familiar coasts. As a matter of fact, coral formations stretch all along the Atlantic coast of the United States, although the reefs do not rise so high that they project from the water. Some of the most beautiful of the living coral in the New York aquarium was dredged up from the Atlantic ocean almost within sight of the city of New York, and there are many coral patches still closer to the shore. Generally the northern coral is snow white, although sometimes it has a delicate brown tint. Pink coral is found occasionally, but it is rare.

A Bargain.
Fred—Kitty didn't marry that millionaire duffer after all, did she?
Jack—No; he backed out, and she sued him for breach of promise.
Fred—What damages?
Jack—Twenty-five thousand, and she got it.
Fred—Clear case of $25,000 off for a woman's! I didn't think Kitty was so sharp at driving a bargain.—Comfort.

A Suspicious Request.
Perry is a little boy who makes plans to chink his bath sometimes. But the other evening he came in from play tired and hot and sticky.
"Do I get a bath tonight, ma?" he asked.
"Yes," answered his mother.
"Well," he said cheerfully, "the Lord knows I need it!"

A Revised Topic of Discussion.
"It looks as if we were in for another Napoleonic revival."
"What makes you think so?"
"I understand the Lime and Plaster club has revived the old debating question, 'Resolved: Bonaparte is a greater man than Napoleon.'"

Kept Asunder.
Tom—Have Maud and Ethel quarrelled? I don't see them together lately.
Dolly—No, they haven't quarrelled, but Maud's new gown is lavender and Ethel's new gown is blue.—Somerville Journal.

The Antiquity of the Organ.
The organ is the most magnificent and comprehensive of all musical instruments. While the pipes of Pan, aside from that mythical personage, indicate a very ancient use of pipes as a means of producing musical sounds, the "water organ of the ancients" furnishes to the student of organ history the first tangible clue regarding the evolution of the instrument. In the second century the magistra, an organ of ten pipes with a crude keyboard, is said to have existed, but accounts of this instrument are involved in much obscurity. It is asserted that an organ, the gift of Constantine, was in the possession of King Pepin of France in 757, but Aldehelm, a monk, makes mention of an organ with "gilt pipes" as far back as the year 700.

Berlin Telegraph.—Prof. H. H. Curtis and his companion of comedians, after being in Berlin two weeks, and who have given daily open-air concerts in Waterloo for a week, opened up in the Waterloo town hall on Monday evening. The hall has been crowded evening, and judging from what different citizens say who have tried the remedies, as well as from the increased sales, the remedies must surely have merit. The party now consists of Prof. Curtis, Hooker White, Irish comedian, Jas Taylor, tramp contortionist and blackfaced comedian, and Chas Kinsinger, musical artist. Opera House, Wellesley, all this week.

Second Reasonable.
Johnny had written a composition in the narrative style and was showing it to his mother for her approval before submitting it to the teacher.
"Here's a sentence that will not do, Johnny," she said as she read it: "When the man found that he had called at the wrong door, he politely explained himself away." A man can explain a thing away, my dear, but not himself.
"I don't see why," contended Johnny.
"A man can bow himself out, can't he?"
"Certainly."
"Then why can't he explain himself away?"

Mutuality of Destination.
A listless looking woman came into a car and, dropping languidly into a seat by the side of an acquaintance, drawled out lazily:
"La, la, is this you?"
"Why, Mag, how are you?" was the equally languid reply.
"Where you goin', Het?"
"Nowhere. Where you goin'?"
"Nowhere."
"Well, then, I guess I'll just drag along with you."

Early English Umbrellas.
Two centuries ago the umbrella was known and used as a sunshade. Ben Jonson and Beaumont and Fletcher alluded to it. In 1712 it was used as a rain protector. Gay in his "Trivia" speaks of the "umbrella's oily shed," which was recorded as a kind of sou'wester material more serviceable than gingham or silk, which was used in its construction at that period.

Out Before His Time.
"There's one of my faults that I'm free to admit," said the convict who always managed to break jail.
"What's that?"
"I have never lived up to my convictions."

Professional Shoppers.
Professional shoppers are employed by a certain large firm of London drapers to test the abilities of shop assistants. This firm owns over thirty large shops and employs nearly 1,000 assistants. To find out whether every customer is politely served a number of lady customers are employed to call at the various shops. They are told to give as much trouble as possible and sometimes to leave without making a purchase after looking at nearly everything in the shop. Should the unfortunate assistant's temper not be equal to the strain, or should a single word be said that might offend, a report will infallibly reach headquarters and lead to the dismissal of the sorry tried handler of silks and ribbons.

Made a Difference.
Landlady—I will let this excellent room at reduced rates because there is a woman next door who plays the piano continually.
Applicant—Oh, that won't make any difference. The room is for my nephew here, and he is deaf.
Landlady—Ah, in that case I must charge the full price.

FOR THIRTY DAYS.

The Toronto Daily World, a news paper that pays particular attention to the requirement of the farmer, and has the reputation of publishing the most accurate cattle and produce market reports of any paper in Canada, together with a brief, live and up-to-date news service, can be secured clubbed with the Maple Leaf for the balance of this year and up to the first of January, 1905, for $3.50. While everybody is busy at the present time, still there is no one so busy that they cannot take advantage of a genuine bargain and secure the best local paper, combined with one of the brightest metropolitan newspapers published in Canada. This offer is only good for thirty days from the first insertion of this advertisement, which appears in the Maple Leaf, on Sept. 3rd. Call, or mail your order to us before Oct. 3rd, 1903, as no subscriptions at this rate will be taken.

The sale at Wm. Beilstein's on Tuesday was well attended and good prices are reported for the chattels.

Small Sea Serpents.
In New Orleans sea serpents are frequently seen and sometimes captured. They are curious creatures, the head being very small and scarcely distinguishable from the body and the tail being formed like an oar. In length they are generally between three and four feet.

In the jaw there are tiny glands containing poison, but as the mouth is very small, it is difficult for them to bite, and the natives handle them fearlessly.
M. Kermogant, a European traveler, witnessed an experiment at Noumea which shows that under certain conditions the sea serpent can do deadly work. A rat was caught in a trap, and its tongue was grasped by a pair of pliers and placed in the mouth of a sea serpent. The serpent immediately bit it, and the rat died in four minutes.

Character in the Face.
Though there may be countenancing features and signs upon the face, ears that are disproportionately large, fat and red bespeak a coarseness of nature, sometimes sensuality and dissipation.

Ears that stand out from the head like flaps are often seen on religious men, but parsimony is apt to go with them.

A long shaped and small ear lying close to the head denotes refinement, delicacy or perception, but also timidity, and sensitiveness. A thin, transparent-looking ear shows delicacy and poetic feeling; thick, ear, the reverse. An ear set rather low on the head denotes good brain capacity; set high or on a level with the eyes, a limited mental capacity is denoted.

Frank Census Returns.
British census returns are more informative than diverting, but the same cannot be said of the Indian. The Punjab returns include professional cricketers under the heading of "Clowns and Tumblers," regarding them apparently in the same light as Mr. Kipling. The Chenab has forty-six male, seven female and sixty-seven "dependent" Nahan rejoices in the possession of 205 shipwreckers. In the schedule also appear 117 "receivers of stolen goods" and 128 "witches, wizards, cow poisoners, etc." There is a frankness about these returns which is very engaging.—London Express.

Expansive Virtue.
A southern judge who had a fine lot of hogs one day met a colored man notorious for stealing and said to him: "Uncle Jack, I'll tell you what I'll do. You pick out two of those hogs you like best, and I'll give them to you, provided you won't steal any of the others."
The negro pondered a while and finally said: "Judge, you're always been a good neighbor, and I like yuh, an' I wants to do right by yuh an' accepta de offer yuh makes, but I wants yuh to know dat I'll lose meat by it."

LOCAL NEWS.

Buy a "Johnny Canuck" cigar when you want a really good one. They all sell it.

Messrs Ed. Ratz and John Hill spent part of last week visiting friends in Michigan.

Union Sabbath School at 10.30 a. m. next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Draper will conduct service at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Next Thursday, Oct. 15th, is Thanksgiving Day. Business places in Wellesley will be closed that day.

Rev. Mr. Draper preached the funeral sermon of the late Miss Lottie Hogg on Sunday afternoon to a very large congregation in the Union church.

Atwood Bee: "We take our hats off to the Wellesley players, who certainly can play tennis, but we hope to make them play harder for their victory next time."

Lost—from our field near Wellesley, on Sept. 29th, a small fat steer, with a white strip on ear on face and a few other white spots on body. Suitable reward. Kelterborn Bros., Wellesley, Ont.

Some exciting tennis matches have been played on the local court the past week between members of the club. In a gentlemen's doubles the score ended 16-14, and in ladies doubles it took 104 points to decide a 7-5 set.

Mr. Frank Anderson, just south of Haysville, was in the village on Sunday looking for a brown Shire mare, 18 hands high, with large white star on face and white hind legs. About 7 years old, weight 1800 lbs. A reward is offered.

Mr. J. W. Fleischhauer returned home last week from a visit with relatives and friends in the vicinity of Travers City, Mich. He brought home with him a package of seed potatoes from a five acre field from which the owner was offered $500 as they lay.

If you cannot laugh do not go to the Wonder Herb Medicine Co.'s entertainments, for it is a real funny show. Mr. Chas. Kissinger, the king of banjo players, will entertain you. Prof. Curtis, the lecturer, would like to have those who are deaf come and see him at the Royal hotel parlors. Big double show Saturday night. The company will remain here until Saturday night. Call and see the manager of the Medicine Co. in day time at the Royal hotel parlors.

The Gauthier-Brownridge Concert Company gave a delightful concert in the Opera House here last Monday evening under the auspices of the Public Library, to a very large gathering. The program was all that could be desired and encores were demanded for nearly every number. The vocalists, especially the soprano soloist, were superb, while their pianist and violinist proved highly trained musicians. The humorist, Mr. Anderson is a very witty performer of wide ability, but never passing the bounds of innocent fun. This corte of performers will be welcome to Wellesley should their route bring them here again.

Mr. John Hill, of the Wellesley Stock Farm, is away to-day acting as judge at the Clifford Fall Show.

Good general servant wanted. Small family. All modern conveniences in house. Apply to Mrs. J. H. Landreth, Berlin. Care of Customs.

Lost—Between Wellesley and my home, a short distance west of Doering's Corners, a new pair of spectacles with pouch. Finder please leave at post office and oblige. SAMUEL AXT.

NUPTIALS.

KERR—DEWAR.

A very pretty wedding took place on Sept. 30th, at 6 o'clock, p. m., when Miss Nellie, daughter of Mrs. Peter Dewar, near Poole, was united in marriage with Mr. Jas. Kerr, Principal of the Wellesley Public School. The beautiful strains of the wedding march were played by Miss Hanna, of Milverton, when the groom took his place in front of a bank of ferns in the parlor, followed closely by the bride leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. James Dewar. The short but impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. N. D. McKinnon, of Burns Presbyterian church, Milverton and Wellesley. The bride was attired in cream etamine with medallion trimmings, her only ornament being a beautiful brooch, the gift of the groom. After the ceremony and usual congratulations the bridal party and about sixty guests sat down to a sumptuous supper. The gifts, which were both numerous and costly, showed the high esteem in which the couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will be at home to their friends in Wellesley village after Oct. 20th.

FRANKLIN—SANDERS.

A very large number of friends gathered, by invitation, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, in this village on Tuesday evening last to witness the marriage of the eldest daughter, Alice, to Mr. Henry Franklin, a prosperous young farmer near Hollin, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Draper, after which followed the banquet and congratulations. The bride received many valuable and useful presents as mementoes of the occasion from her friends here. The newly wedded pair will take up their residence on the groom's farm in a few days.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is expected that the Dominion parliament will get through with its work so as to be able to prorogue about the 15th October. This session has been perhaps the longest since confederation.

The death of Henry Cargill, M. P. for one of the Bruce county ridings, was one of the tragic events of the week. He had just finished a speech in the House when he complained of feeling ill and was taken to the room of an official in the parliament buildings where he expired an hour or so later. He was closely identified with the business interests of Bruce county and among its wealthiest residents.

The scheme to connect Wellesley with the outside world by electric railway seems now, as reported in last week's issue, about ready to get the consent of the ratepayers in the matter of bonds, and if the sum asked is reasonable it is quite likely the by-laws will be carried. The section this proposed road is to serve is one of the richest in the Province and is not reached by any other road. So rosy does the scheme appear to the capitalists who have promised, through Mr. Ingraham, to build it that an expert railway engineer is supposed to be going over the entire distance from Waterloo to Goderich to estimate the cost, immediately after which the bonus propositions are to be submitted to the municipalities all along the route. When finished this will be the longest freight-carrying electric railway in Canada.

The village of Linwood is at present an embryo railway center. The Guelph-Goderich extension of the C. P. R. will naturally touch that village, the electric road from Berlin is projected to reach that point, while the Tilsonburg-Collingwood road is only awaiting the Dominion subsidy grant to push its line with a probable station at that village. Linwood has a wide-awake class of business men who are likely to be thoroughly alive to their own interests in securing connection with any or all of these roads. That point is well located to become one of the Province's big towns.

The assault and murder of a little girl in the outskirts of Brantford last week by an inhuman brute has roused general indignation in Ontario. This is the second child slaughtered in this horrible way this year, and another girl close to Stratford only escaped a similar fate, a few weeks ago, by the accidental passing of a team. It is the proud boast of Ontario that there has never been a lynching within her borders but if one of these horrible fiends were caught red-handed it will stain our escutcheon if he escapes the swift punishment meted out in such cases in the Southern States. It is easy to talk about letting the law take its course when the crime is perpetrated in some far-off country, but when these horrors fall upon our own little Canadian girls with this sickening frequency we begin to realize the feelings which prompt the Southern States fathers whom we are in the habit of condemning as law-breaking lynchers.

If the Waterloo county editors were to organize a minstrel company Bror Eby, of the Hespeler Herald, is our choice for end man

He is always loaded with funny things to say, and he can say them well.

British Columbia has just concluded an exciting Provincial election contest, in which the Conservatives seem at present to have succeeded in coming out on top, although the Reformers are only three or four behind with enough independents elected to hold the balance of power. For quite a number of years past British Columbia has been governed by politics of its own, but that scheme did not appear to work well so they returned this time to the old "grit and tory" plan.

Lovers of Conan Doyle's detective stories will be delighted to learn that Sherlock Holmes was not killed in that last fight with the desperado in the Alps, although the sorrowing readers could not see how his death could have been avoided. Indeed, Mr. Doyle said to some of his friends at the time that he would either have to kill Sherlock, or Sherlock would kill him, so great was the physical strain of these novels upon the author. In a new book, however, which Mr. Doyle recently issued, Sherlock Holmes turns up again and neatly explains his escape from that fall over the precipice and proves as observant of little things as ever.

According to to-day (Wednesday) papers the Tilsonburg and Collingwood railway is being subsidized by the Dominion parliament from Tilsonburg to Woodstock and to Berlin—40 miles in all. Stratford's chance of getting that road is now looking very slim.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

If you want to see the best machinery in town call on me at the new shop, opposite the veterinary barn. McCormack harvest machinery, wire corn planters, and cultivators, hay slings, Elmira hay loaders, also the celebrated Cock-shutt plows. Kangaroo, two-furrow and Fleury plows, made at Aurora. My prices are the lowest MIKE G. EHR, Wellesley.
