LINWOOD.

Miss Edna McKay was visiting friends in Woodstock last week.

Rev. H. Monsinger, of Cape Croker, called on friends here last week while on his way to St. Catharines, his new field of labor.

Miss Nellie Schnarr is visiting friends in Elma this week.

Mrs. A. Boomer and family are moving to Berlin this week. Mrs. Boomer is one of Linwood's oldest inhabitants, having lived here for a great many years. They will be very much missed in town, but Linwood's loss is Berlin's gain. We wish them all success in their new home.

Rev. D. Sharpe preached in the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening.

Miss L. C. Baldwin, who has resigned her position as assistant teacher in the Linwood public school, received a very pleasant surprise last Thursday afternoon at the close of school when her schoolmates presented her with a gold fountain pen. The children were very sorry to part with Miss Baldwin as she had won her way to the hearts of the little folks. Her departure is very much regretted in the village where she has become a general favorite, and where her place will be hard to fill. We wish her every prosperity in her high calling as a teacher.

Mr. R. B. Hamilton, our popular politician, attended the garden party at Millbank on July 1st, taking part in the program, and he no doubt gave a good account of himself.

Our Brass Band supplied the music for the sports at Glenalla on the 1st. The band is in good demand this season.

Mr. F. B. Edmunds, our esteemed teacher, is spending his holidays in Guelph this year. We hope he will have a good time.

Mr. Chas. Parcell, of Toronto, is home for his holidays, looking hale and hearty.

Miss Jane O'Connor is improving her property with a new wire fence and a new roof on the house.

The first of July passed off very quietly in town. Some of our people took in the sports at Glenalla and others went to the Millbank garden party.

Last Sabbath at the close of the Methodist Sunday School, Miss Crowe, the Superintendent, called Miss Clara Hackett and Miss Ollie Sbarpe forward, and after reading an address they presented Miss E. L. Boomer with a handsome gift. Miss Boomer has been organist and teacher for a long time, and will be greatly missed in the school. Although taken by surprise she, in a few well chosen words, thanked the friends for their kindness, then asked Mr. F. B. Edmunds to speak on her behalf, which he did in very touching language.

Mr. R. B. Hamilton preached for Rev. D. Sharpe last Sunday at Zion and Hawkesville.

Mr. John Schurr was in Milverton Monday on business.

HAWKESVILLE.

A VERY INTERESTING event took place Mr. J. C. Shelly's on Wednesday, June 22nd, when their eldest daughter, Clara, was united in marriage to Mr. Fernando Snyder, of Bloomington. Rev. T. H. Ibbott, assisted by Rev. D. Sharpe, officiated. At 12.30 the bride, leaning on her father's arm, entered the prettily decorated drawing room, as the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march was being poured forth on the organ by Mrs. B. More, of Toronto. The bride wore a travelling suit of brown broadcloth, opening over a cream satin waist and pearl trimmings and a black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of cream roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Annetta Shelly, sister of the bride, was gowned in white India lawn, and wore a white picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and asparagus fern. The little flower girl, Miss Amy Shelly, also a sister of the bride, was dressed in Nile green crepe-de-chene, and carried a basket of sweet peas. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Sidney Snyder. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold chain, to the bridesmaid a gold pin, and to the flower girl, a necklace and heart. After the ceremony about fifty guests sat to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The many and beautiful gifts received by the bride show the esteem with which both bride and groom were held. The happy couple left amid showers of rice for a ten days' trip to St. Louis, after which they will reside on a farm near Bloomington.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

The session of the Waterloo County council, held in Berlin last week, was a busy one and occupied several days.

The appointment of an extra school inspector is a popular move. The change was made on the advice of Inspector Pearce, and along the lines he recommended. The new system will cost the county only about $250 more per year.

The county house of refuge is coming in for a large increase of expenditure by reason of the purchase of more land, but it is probable that a tract of the farm lying on the opposite side of the railway will be sold soon.

The finance committee's report includes a lot of printing accounts which indicates that the day of hawking printing contracts around the country to get publishers to "cut each other's throats" is about past in Waterloo. Paper and wages have advanced so much, and business in this line has improved so much that printers are no longer anxious for work at our rates. Nearly every publisher in the county is represented in the financial report with accounts varying from $4.75 to $144.83.

Among the grants made this year were: To the Galt and Berlin hospitals, $1500 each, being an increase of $500 to each; St. Agatha orphanage, $400, an increase of $50; Berlin orphanage, $150, an increase of $25; North and South Waterloo Agricultural Societies, $100 each; Wilmet, Wellesley and Woolwich Ag. Societies, $50 each; County Teachers' Association, $55; North and South Waterloo Farmers' Institutes, $25 each.

The equalization of the assessment was gotten over easily this year owing to the changes which will be necessary when the new Assessment Act comes into force next year. It was decided to make no changes this year so the assessment for county purposes will be as follows:

Municipality Acres Ass. Value
Waterloo	82710 . . . $3,617,790
Wellesley	60551 . . . 2,801,000
Wilmet	60727 . . . 2,604,075
Woolwich	53549 . . . 2,573,185
North Dumfries	44348 . . . 1,869,095
Berlin	29835 . . . 3,794,095
Galt	14477 . . . 3,920,429
Waterloo (town)	2350 . . . 1,554,805
Preston	1300 . . . 751,680
New Hamburg	950 . . . 385,840
Edmira	514 . . . 343,535

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—The best in Existence.

T. M. Wood, manager of the White County News, Beboe, Ark., is a representative southern business man, who does not hesitate in expressing his good opinion of a well known remedy. He says, "It gives me pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, having used it myself and in my family with the best results. In fact I believe it to be the best remedy of its kind in existence. Sold by A. J. Saunders."

ELECTRIC STORM.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE IN NEW HAMBURG.

A heavy wind and rain storm passed across Wilmet township on Monday afternoon doing considerable damage to fences, crops and outbuildings. At New Hamburg the wind was especially severe. Some 25 to 30 trees were uprooted and several buildings slightly damaged. Mr. Becker's fine new King Edward hotel, near the station, was completely unroofed, causing a loss of over $1000. The storm was also quite heavy in the north part of the township, but the damage done was very slight.

Two horses were killed and another horse and several men stung by this same storm, on Sprague's road, North Dumfries.

Brassels, Ont., June 28.—John Lamont, a highly respected young farmer living near here, was accidentally killed to-day while working in the bush. Lamont, in company with his father and three other men, were using a large spring pole, which was overhead, when the pole gave way and fell full weight on the back of Lamont's neck causing instant death. He was thirty years old and unmarried.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by A. J. Saunders.

The Listowel Banner hints that the C.P.R. will be extended from Linwood to Inverhuron on the lake.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The people of Berlin and Waterloo ought to give a rousing support to Mr. W. H. Breithaupt's scheme of extending his trolley system north into Woolwich township. The building of that line would not only save the Twin-City from loss of trade through the building of the Guelph-Goderich extension across Woolwich township, but bring in a large additional traffic. The scarcity of sufficient farm produce makes Berlin a dear town to live in and the people should welcome all means of making their market easy of access.

Saturday's anniversary edition of the Toronto Globe was perhaps the best of its kind ever issued in Canada.

The Japan-Russia war has now reached the stage that an outsider doesn't know any more about it than he did at first. It is, however, officially admitted that the rainy season is nearly at hand.

The Von Ecka electric railway between Brantford and Galt is being rapidly completed. Rails are now laid to within a few miles of the latter town.

The Feltor drain constructed near the Wellesley border, in North Easthope, is at a standstill because of some misunderstanding over notifying the farmers interested. Meantime Mr. Feltor is losing the use of a big field and he may yet have an action for damages against someone.

It is said that some farms in this section are to be seeded down on account of the scarcity of labor. Grass fattened stockers are reported to be quite profitable.

The year 1904 promises to be a record-breaker for calamities. At least half a dozen catastrophes have already been recorded where the loss of life is over 500, the latest being the grounding of an ocean liner on Saturday, entraining the loss of 700 lives.

For a long time the Roman Catholics have been attempting to have the British coronation oath changed so as not to be offensive to their faith. In the British House of Lords last week the matter was brought up when the leader stated that as soon as a suitable oath was agreed upon between the religious officials they would be pleased to accept it, but nothing must be inserted which would endanger a Protestant succession.

The building of an electric railway from Stratford to St. Joseph, on Lake Huron, is progressing rapidly. The route is staked out and the right of way purchased. The scheme appears to be amply capitalized.

Canada has 19,356 public schools, presided over by 28,699 teachers and attended by 1,095,633 pupils. These schools cost the Dominion $12,000,000 annually. There are also 17 universities and 53 colleges, with students to the number of 15,000. Eighty out of every one hundred adults can write, and 70 per cent of the entire population can read. The first census of Canada was taken in 1665, the population being 3,251. Today it is almost six millions, 87% of whom were born here. All except about 5% are British born.

BUY IT NOW.

Now is the time to buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is certain to be needed sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly—you will need it quickly. Buy it now. It may save life. For sale by A. J. Saunders.

ONE TRAIT OF AN OUTLAW

Always Willing to Stand by a Comrade in Trouble.

While Monrow was low minded, ignorant and brutal, he had one big quality that in some measure redeemed him to the eyes of the men who followed the rough life of the range. He would not desert a comrade in time of trouble, says the World's Work. Down in El Paso in the early part of his career before he had become bold enough to allow evidence of his misdeeds to become apparent he was ostentatiously running a ranch and struggling along with the rest of the plowless cattlemen. A man in his employ was caught driving off a bunch of cattle from a neighbor's herd. By some mischance the fellow fell into the hands of a newly elected sheriff and was not hanged. He was duly arraigned and held under bond of $3,000. Monrow was present at the trial and offered to go on his bond. The justice would not accept Monrow.

"Nothing but cash goes in this here court," he said. Monrow rode away. Five days later he appeared, deposited the cash bond for his friend, furnished him with a horse, and together they headed toward the south. Within an hour a band of cattlemen picked up the trail and followed it to Rio Grande. Monrow had stolen an entire herd, rushed it across to friends in Mexico and in that manner raised the security the court demanded for his friend. Of course, the man never returned for trial, and Monrow being open operations shortly afterward.

No Opposition.

They were holding a county convention when I reached Davisburg, and after dinner I went over to the hall to hear the speaking, as a writer in an exchange. It didn't amount to much until Sam Walker rose up and said: "I hain't bin sayin' much around here today, but the time has cum for me to shoot off my voice. The ole woman is ag'in me, and my son Bill is ag'in me, but I want to go to the legislature from this district. The ole woman is ag'in me 'cause I can't write. What do I want to write fur? That'll be nuff who kin without me. My son Bill is ag'in me 'cause I can't read. What do I want to read fur? Can't I set that and 'lar others read?"

"Yes, I want to go to the legislature, and I hereby nominate myself. That nomination, feller citizens, is carried in my favor as slick as coon grease, and I've got jist a word more. I shall be right yere on 'teckabun day, and the varmint who polls a vote ag'in Sam Walker won't be revidin' in this yere cold world five mins late."

A Hat Tragedy.

Not long ago a lady was choosing a hat, with the usual uncertainty of mind as to the kind of hat she wanted or whether, indeed, she wanted a hat at all. After trying on nearly every model in the shop and pondering with gloom on one she had overlooked. "Here's something pretty," she said. "Why did you not show me this before?" Without waiting for an answer she appealed to her patient friend. "There's some style about this, isn't there? How do I look?"

"The color, distinctly suited," it makes you look a hundred, and it's very dowy," she said. The other tried the hat at another angle. "It is rather dowy," she admitted at this juncture. "Perhaps I won't risk it after all."

A voice from behind her made its third attempt to gain a hearing. "If you've quite done with my hat," it said very bitterly, "I should rather like to put it on!"

The Western Reserve.

In the early days of the Hayes administration, when Mr. Evans was secretary of state, the members of the cabinet were discussing matters in an informal way one morning when the president mentioned that he had made a few appointments without consulting his official family, the appointees being personal friends. All the places filled happened to fall within the state department. Secretary Evans turned to John Sherman and said, with a twinkle in his eye, "I have often heard and read about the western reserve of Ohio, but I must confess that I have never seen any of it."

Sterilizing Water.

In times of cholera, typhoid and other infectious diseases butter is a dangerous thing to eat. A medical man in Egypt gives this recipe for making it harmless; Sterilize the local article by standing it in a covered jar surrounded by boiling water, which should be allowed to simmer for two hours. The jar should then be put on ice and the butter beaten with an egg white until it becomes solid again.

The Tarantula.

The sting of the tarantula (a name derived from Taranto, a town in Italy), the most venomous of spiders, was popularly supposed to produce a disease called tarantula, which could be cured only by music or dancing, and the dance which cured it was called tarantella. You can see the peasants dance the tarantella now, but without waiting for spider bites.

Mutuality of Destination.
A homeless looking woman came into a car and dropping her suitcase into a seat by the side of an acquaintance drawled out lazily:
"La, Het, is this yer?"
"Why, Mag, how are you?" was the equally languid reply.
"Where you goin', Het?"
"Nowhara. Where you goin'?"
"Nowhara."
"Well, then, I guess I'll just drag along with you."

Early English Umbrella.
Two centuries ago the umbrella was known and used as a sunshade. Ben Jonson said Beaumont and Fletcher alluded to it. In 1712 it was used as a rain protector. Gay in his "Trifles" speaks of the "umbrella's oily sheet," which was recorded as a kind of sou'wester material more serviceable than gingham or silk, which was used in its construction at that period.

Out Before His Time.
"There's one of my faults that I'm free to admit," said the convict who always managed to break jail.
"What's that?"
"I have never lived up to my victims."

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

Mr. Fraser has his force at work on the eschert arch over the headwaters of the pond at the flax mill. It is expected that the foundations will be laid so that the mill pond can again be filled, the water of which had been lowered for several days while this work was being done.
Mr. Jas. Leonard, President of the proposed Geolph-Goderich railway (who visited Wellesley last week) negotiated the purchase of the Tilsonburg and Lake Erie road for the C.P.R. this week. It will be remembered that there was a talk, a year or so ago, of this road running north, through Stratford and Wellesley, to Collingwood. It's route has not yet been decided. Stratford now has three different possibilities of getting the C.P.R.

Mr. Geo Miller, of Chesley, is a guest at Mr. Chas. Schwalm's.
Mr. John Freeborn is having a large frame stable built on his property in this village. Mr. Henry Heimpel has the contract.
A party of young people from this village were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hostotier, 5th line last Monday evening.
A large number attended the raising of a large barn on Mr. A.H. Doring's farm, just south of this village, on Monday afternoon.
Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, of Shakespeare, formerly of the 3rd line, are at present enjoying a visit with relatives and former friends in this village and vicinity.

It is reported that the arbitrators decided that no change be made in the "Briker" school section, north-west of Hawkesville, and instructions were given to build the new school on the old site.

Miss Amelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Becker, of Wellesley, was united in marriage to Mr. Alf. Kress, of Elmira, the ceremony being performed at Tavistock a week ago Monday. The happy young couple spent last week with the bride's parents here.

The brass band, the junior football club and a number of our other visitors journeyed to Millbank on Dominion Day to take part in the picnic. They report that the gathering was a most successful one and that an excellent time was enjoyed. In the foot ball game both teams were shooed, Millbank having ten and Wellesley nine players. Our boys lined up: Reinhold Yeat; back, Walter Fleischbauer and Herbert Kaufman; halfback, Oscar Ottmann, forwards, Albert Stahle; Harvov Schaub; Albert Berscht; John Stahle, Aaron Gingerich. The game was won by Wellesley, by a score of 1 to 0.

FOUND AN AEROLITE.

Mr. Levitt Wilford, whose farm is on the south side of the ninth line, just east of Crosshill, brought to the Maple Leaf office last Saturday a curious lump of burned stone, which, from its appearance and the peculiar circumstances of its finding, indicates very clearly that it is the remnant of an aerolite. "Shooting stars," as they are commonly called, are considered by Scientists to be lumps of stone (probably broken up worlds) which are flying through space until they come within range of the earth's attraction. Drawn closer and closer they finally touch our atmosphere, when the resistance of rushing with their tremendous velocity against earth's air causes them to heat and ignite and to be consumed. Thousands of these wanderers are caught every year but they are usually entirely consumed before they reach the ground, so that on very rare occasions is one of them secured.

Late last April Mr. Wilford was walking along an old wagon track in the bush on the back end of his farm when he saw a peculiar lump of burned stone, about the size of a small egg, lying on a grassy knoll. The snow had been recently melted off and no sleigh had been in that part of the woods all winter. As the woods was free from stones and no fire had been over built there his curiosity was aroused and he picked the curiosity up and carried it home and brought it to the Maple Leaf office when he came to the village last week.

There is no way of accounting for its presence except that it is a meteor whose fuses became expended before it was entirely consumed, and falling into the snow it cooled quickly instead of crumbling to ashes. The stone is a clear yellow color with bluish streaks, is as light as pumice and pulverizes very easily.

THEY CANED HIM.

Mr. Fred Debus, manager of the Wellesley Roller Milling Co., reached his thirty-fourth birthday last Saturday. But he had forgotten it in the cares of stock-taking and had no idea of the causing that was in store for him until late in the evening. A couple of the boys lured him out for a short buggy drive about dusk and on his return he found the house filled with guests, most of the gentlemen being employees of the mill. He was still wondering why, when the band struck up outside. The answer to his query "What's up," was given when Mr. Ed. Wittich stepped forward and read the following address: Mr. Ed. Karn presenting the case: Wellesley, July 2nd, 1904.

Mr. FRED DEBUS,
Dear Sir—This being the thirty-fourth anniversary of your birthday we, your employees, take the opportunity of showing our regard for you. We appreciate your efforts in our behalfs beyond reward, but as a token of our regard we beg to present you with this gold-headed cane. Hoping you may live to enjoy many more birthdays in prosperity and happiness, we are, sincerely yours, (Signed) Ed. Wittich, Ed. Karn, Harry Faber, John Mayer Peter Schmidt, Adam Dobus, John Egerlie, Jos. Kennel, Chas. Bickert, Dan Heintz, Sol. Leis, Jno. Forler.

After Mr. Debus' impromptu reply in accepting the handsome gift and the congratulations which followed, the party then sat down to the supper which the ladies had provided. Then followed games, etc., until a late hour when the merry company dispersed.

THE INNS OF CHINA.

Their Cheapness is About Their One Redeeming Feature.

Chinese inns are without register or clerks. On riding through the gateway your bridle reins is seized by a dirty boy, who helps you to dismount, shouting loudly meanwhile for the proprietor, who presently looms up through the wilderness of carts and mules. Proprietor and boy then hold a parley as to what rooms are eligible, and then a door is pushed open and the traveler is shown to his apartment. It is usually about twelve feet square. The walls and floor are of hard mud, and so are the beds, which extend entirely across the side of the room, with only space enough between them for a small table and one chair. The room is lighted by one window, in which paper takes the place of glass.

The first duty of the proprietor in making a patron comfortable is to stop up the holes in the paper window pane. He never tears the paper off entirely and replaces it with a new one, because the sheet of paper is worth about one-tenth of a cent, and the innkeeper is not wasteful. Indeed he pastes little slips of paper over the holes until all the light that filters through it is of a mottled hue.

At one end of the mule shed is the kitchen of the inn. It is here that the meals for all the patrons are prepared, to be eaten in the rooms. The menu is not elaborate. It consists only of bowls of rice and tea. Should the traveler desire a greater variety of food, he can buy it himself in the market, and his own servant can cook it in the kitchen of the inn. To sleep on the bed of a Chinese inn would be for a foreigner an impossibility were it not that he is always so exhausted at the end of each day's journey that he finds it difficult to remain awake ten minutes after alighting from his pony. He lies down on the mat that covers the hard heap of mud and surprises himself at the soundness of his slumber.

The one redeeming thing about the inn is its cheapness. Just as the traveler is about to depart in the morning the proprietor tells him the amount of his bill. Everything is charged on the "European plan." Every cup of tea, every rusbright candle, the paper window pane, are all itemized in the long list which the proprietor reads off in a staccato, but fatal in a surprisingly low. The cost of food and lodging for one night for a traveler and two servants, with stabling and fodder for his ponies and cart mules, is about 50 cents.

Wanted Too Soon.

The rear end of a Fordham car was congested the other afternoon. There wasn't even "standing room only." A jocular commuter said, "Beware of pickpockets!"

Everybody laughed.

A gentlemanly looking fellow said: "No man need be afraid of pickpockets if he does as I did. I have a self patented scheme. I have a buttonhole in my vest pocket. I run my chain through it and attach the other end in the usual way. They can't draw it back through that buttonhole. No pickpockets in mine, and don't you forget it!"

The crowd thinned out.

At Waverover avenue the "patentee" said startlingly:

"My watch is gone!"

Somebody had clipped the chain, drawn it through the other way and abstracted the watch.

A Story of Two Necklaces.

When General Weyer was sent by Spain as governor general to Manila, Don Carlos Palanca, the wealthy Spaniard Chinese man determined to send Mrs. Weyer a gift, the customary way of obtaining the good will of the Spanish officials. He found at a jeweler's two necklaces, each costing $20,000 and both being so beautiful that he could not choose between them. So he sent them both to Mrs. Weyer with the message that she should make her choice. He received a warm letter of thanks from her, stating that the necklaces were so beautiful that she could not decide between them and hence would keep both, which she did.

Theories About Drowned Bodies.

It was a popular theory in days gone by that the body of a drowned man would float the ninth day. Sir Thomas Browne alludes to it as believed in his time, and in his "Pseudo-doxia Epidemica" there is a discussion on this fanciful notion. It was also believed that the spirits of those drowned at sea were doomed to wander for a hundred years owing to the rites of burial having never been properly bestowed upon their bodies.

A Martyr.

"She is the most sacrificin' woman in miles around."

"In what way?"

"Waal, whenever they get up a lawn fete or rumper like for the church in which the expenses are more'n the proceeds the committee alwaws sends her up to acquaint the pastor with the result."

The Philosopher.

The greatest thing we ever saw in the way of a philosopher was a one armed man in a masculine establishment who groaned because he got his watch done for half price.
