On Tuesday morning Mr. Wm. Arnold and his hired man, Eph. Moser, were ploughing on the former's farm, just west of Bamberg. Shortly before noon they decided to pull out an old post which stood in the field. The post proved to be rotten and broke off suddenly, throwing both men under the horses' feet. The animals became frightened and ran over both men injuring them seriously and they were picked up, by parties who saw the accident from a distance, in an unconscious condition. Medical help was called in as soon as possible when it was found that Mr. Arnold's face, head and neck were fearfully gashed, as well as being bruised about the body. Mr. Moser's wounds were less in number but he is probably injured internally. Both young men are still suffering severely but their recovery is expected.

The House of Refuge committee met Thursday with John Fisher, of Waterloo, presiding. Other members present were S. J. Cherry, D. Hibner and Alex. Peterson. After enjoying one of Mrs. Martin's famous dinners the members trans-

NEW HAMBURG.

Sept. 6th, 1904.

The Labor Day celebration held here yesterday was a decided success although the crowd was not so large as it would have been but for the demonstrations at Tavistock, Stratford and Waterloo. The sports were clean and exciting and proved an enjoyable attraction.

In baseball our local team won twice from the natty Berlin City league leaders, the games being as fast as many professional teams can put up.

The Wellesley tennis players were also easy winners although our local exponents made them work for their victory. The three sets played all went to Wellesley 6-1, 6-2, 6-1. It is high time the Wellesley players were pitted against some of the crack players of Galt, Preston or Berlin.

A pretty lacrosse match was played between the Mitchell and Drumbo clubs, the latter winning. The combination on both sides was first-class, and lacrosse, which is not often played here, proved very popular with the spectators.

The address by Mr. R. R. Gurney, M. P. for Manitowish, was, of course, the feature of the day. Those who expected vituperation of the government were completely disappointed as his language was very moderate. He gave an exhaustive address on new Ontario bringing out much information in a very agreeable and interesting manner, and ended by telling the story of how he was tied into the celebrated case which has made his name known all over the Dominion. He has a plausible, though homespun manner of talking, and a concise way of telling things which makes listening very easy. What-over view of his case his large audience may have taken he certainly lost nothing personally by his address here. Dr. Whitman, of Shakespeare, occupied the chair, delivering an able address. EDITORIAL NOTES.

The get-through-life-quick epidemic has struck Canada at last, and we have the advertisements before our noses every time we open a paper: "German learned in six lessons," "French before Breakfast," "dressing in two weeks," etc., "ad infinitum. If there's any money in that kind of thing we are prepared to advertise "editing a country newspaper taught in one lesson," but we warn would-be pupils that that one lesson will be a long one. The list of studies will include learning to be brains for the public that considers you a fool; get other people into fat positions while you starve yourself; print all the news that's going without making personal enemies; be skilled enough in lying to be considered truthful; trust everybody gracefully for job work, advice, or subscription while you're acting for the price of a meal; write speeches for public men, then puff up their oratorical effort; be thankful to every society that gives you a free 25 cent ticket in exchange for a $2 adv. Oh, it's easy to learn editing if you only have the endurance, and the humility, and money's no object.

The C. P. R. is beginning to lay daylight onto the talked-of scheme to connect Lake Erie and Colingwood by a railway. The purchase of the Tilsonburg and Lake Erie line is now accomplished and the announcement is made that the line will be connected with Stratford, to do so via Embro. This makes it more plain to the public what the C. P. R. means by its proposed extension from Hawkesville to Stratford, as this would naturally form a continuation of the road on towards Colingwood.

It is reported that the handsome young editor of the Hespeler Herald is getting bald-headed. Literally wearing holes through his hair, thinking up those witty things he writes under the heading "Squints". Let this proven warning to "Sharpe and flats" of the Galt Reporter.

The Stratford Daily Herald fairly glows with the pride of anticipation. It says "In the next ten years the Classic City bids fair to become the leading one of Western Ontario's smaller cities." It gives as a reason for this the C. P. R. connection it expects, the radial electric railways which now seem assured, and the staunch growth the city is making in population and manufacture.

Mr. John Boegel, of St. Clements, has received the appointment of Treasurer of the township of Wellesley, made vacant by the recent death of Mr. Meyer. At the council meeting in Crosshill on Monday of this week, there were some applicants for the position, among them Mr. Geo. Bellinger, of Wellesley, whose application was backed by a strong petition and a delegation of supporters. It was at first thought his chances for getting the position were good, as he had the promised support of several of the councillors, but at Monday's meeting the Rev. Boegel explained that Mr. Boegel had been appointed at the previous council meeting. Mr. J. G. Reiner, who was present, probed the matter for public information as there was no record of the transaction in the council's minutes of the preceding meeting and Mr. Meyer was not dead at that time, while several councillors had promised him to support Mr. Bellinger at this present meeting. The Rev. Boegel replied that the motion in question was made by himself, seconded by Mr. Lichty and put by Mr. Kerr. It therefore stood, and Mr. Boegel is the Treasurer when the bonds are furnished. The Rev. also stated that it is the intention of the council to provide that all the township funds shall hereafter be kept in the Wellesley Branch of the Western Bank of Canada. The incident then closed. Mr. Boegel is an old resident of the township, very highly respected by all, and had the announcement of his appointment been made in time, there would have been no effort made by Mr. Bellinger's many friends to secure the position for him.

THREE JURORS CURED.

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Etowahville, county seat of Cleburne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some some meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for certain cholera medicine, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. The second fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one twenty-five cent bottle cured the three of us." For sale by A. J. Saunders, druggist, Wellesley.

At a prayer meeting in Mississippi during the civil war a good old brother in the church is said to have offered up the following pathetic prayer: "O Lord we thank Thee for all Thy boundless goodness; for this rich and beautiful land of ours; for our brave women and valiant men. We thank Thee that we are fully able to take care of ourselves on land, but O Lord, we do most humbly implore Thy assistance when those Yankees send those infernal gunboats to destroy us."

A thin, nervous-looking man stepped up to the preacher as the latter came down from the pulpit, says the Boston Herald. "You have had a good deal to say this morning," he observed, "about a feller that killed a man named Abel." "Certainly," replied the pastor. "The Sin of Cain was the subject of my discourse." "I wish you'd do me the favor next Sunday," said the thin man in some excitement, "to tell the folks that the man you were talking about this morning ain't no relation to the Kane that keeps a livery stable at wa by the mill. I don't want none of my friends to think that I had a hand in the killing, that's all. Good day."

Who's Your Tailor?

A per-fitting suit of Clothes may sometimes cost less money over the counter, but you won't get the comfort or the value out of it that you do from a suit made specially to fit you.

An $8 outfit, that you become disgusted with and throw away inside of three months is not as cheap as the $12 outfit that you cling to with pleasure for a year or more because it was built to fit you. SEE THE POINT!

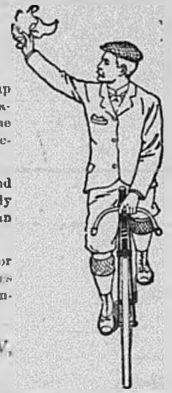

Well, just now I have some scraps in cloth that I can make up into the "year-or-more" pleasureable fit, and get sell at just about the "three-months" price.

Just hitch up, drive in to Linwood and see us.

What's the Price To-Day?

The farmer who already knows the market prices for grain and produce need fear no combination of buyers when he goes to market.

How often the buyers "get together" on prices every farmer knows.

How often has a farmer sold his grain in one town for a couple of cents less than the buyers were paying in a neighboring market?

It pays to keep posted on the markets.

The Toronto Daily Star has the best market reports of any city paper. It has men who do nothing else but study the markets—who give it all their time and attention, and you can get all this information in the Star every weekday for a year and your own local paper as well for $2.20.

If you save a cent a bushel on only two loads of grain by knowing the prices it will about pay the price, won't it? Besides think of being in touch with the world's news every day.

Subscribe direct to the Star or through the office of this paper. Both the Daily Star and this paper for $2.20.

LOCAL NEWS.

Fred Froelich is attending the Berlin Colleague.

Miss Florence Fleischauer is the guest of her aunt at Heidelberg.

Mr. John Weismiller, of Hensall, visited his parents and friends here last week.

Miss Annetta Ottmann was visiting in Waterloo from Friday to yesterday.

Miss Mary Wagner was visiting friends and relatives in New Hamburg last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ottmann, of Hawksville, visited his brothers here on Sunday.

Mr. John Yendt and his brother Reinhold spent Labor Day holidays with an aunt near Neustadt.

Mrs. Schneider and children, of Brantford, are at present the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reibling, in this village.

Messrs. E. and A. Reiner and J. Kerr played tennis in New Hamburg on Labor Day, winning easily by score of 6-1, 6-2 and 6-1.

Misses Tona and Clara Karn, of Mitchell, who have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. Fred Debus, for a part of last week, returned home on Monday.

Walter and Eugene Lochner left on Monday for Fort Wayne, Ind., where they will enter the Lutheran college, taking up studies with a view of finally fitting themselves for the ministry.

Purse Lost—Somewhere between Tavistock and Wellesley, via Lisbon and Schlegel's Corners, last Saturday evening, a ladies' chatelaine containing gloves, etc., and some money. Please leave word at this office.

Last Friday Mr. Gavin Barbour, of Crosshill, brought the first load of this year's wheat delivered at the Wellesley Mills which tested 60 pounds to the bushel. He received $1 per bushel for it. Some of the other samples tested as low as 50 lbs., the average being about 56 lbs.

Mr. J. F. Gingerich, of Kolona, Iowa, was a caller on the Maple Leaf the other day, while on a visit to relatives and friends in this neighborhood. A dozen or so years have elapsed since his last trip to Canada and he notices a vast improvement in the farms and villages here during that time. While freely admitting that our buildings and appliances are better he states that the Kolona district is years ahead of us in that it has rural mail delivery and telephones, two conveniences that the people there would not think of trying to get along without now that they have tried them. The farmers' telephones are grouped in small circles which are joined to other circles, and these in turn are connected with the great public lines. The first cost to the farmers was about $20 per phone, but the annual cost ever since is only from $2 to $4 for repairs. Visit here will extend for a week or two longer.

Mr. John Brown, of Stratford, is now the ex-M.P.P. for North Perth having been unseated at the election protest trial on Tuesday. The successful charge was bribery by an agent, Mr. Brown being personally exonerated.

With good weather the oat crop in this section will all be safely harvested this week.

Mr. D. E. McLeod, circulation manager of the Stratford Herald, was in town yesterday on a business trip, and honored the Maple Leaf with a pleasant fraternal visit.

The choir of the Miss. Lutheran church took part in the missionary services at Peelo on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Landsky, of Logan, and Rev. Mr. Wahl, of Tavistock, were the speakers.

Several from here attended the council meeting at Crosshill on Monday with a view of furthering Mr. George Bellinger's interests in securing the trusteeship. It is only fair to Mr. Bellinger and his friends to state that when the agitation for his appointment was started they had no knowledge that another applicant was in the field or that the council had taken any action. Mr. Boegel's appointment is considered a good one here, and he will, no doubt, be highly acceptable all over the township. The council's action in appointing Mr. Boegel at their August meeting and then withholding the matter from their minutes and from the public is entirely responsible for Mr. Bellinger's justifiable action in applying for the position and for the trouble his friends took in securing the very influential position for his appointment. The Reeve's statement that the township funds would hereafter be kept in the Western Bank covered the change that Mr. Bellinger's friends were trying to secure in the interests of the township, and the council's courteous treatment of the delegation in taking up their business at once was highly appreciated.

THE BLACK WATCH BAND

AT STRATFORD SEPT. 13TH.

The brave deeds of brave men always make interesting reading. In this category there is no body of men better entitled to appear than the old Forty-Second Highlanders, or the famous "Black Watch," a regiment which has earned for itself a reputation for gallantry and discipline second to none in the British Army. Their magnificent band, consisting of some 60 members, pipers, etc., is one of the bands belonging to one of the oldest regiments in the army. From the date of their foundation, in 1725, the Royal Highlanders have been noted, first for their loyalty, and next for their dash, endurance and devotion to duty. It is, without a doubt, one of the greatest musical organizations the world has ever seen, and it will certainly be a treat that the people of Wellesley and vicinity will appreciate by attending in goodly numbers. Lieutenant Moserip, commander of the 26th Batt. certainly deserves the highest commendation for his efforts in bringing such a splendid musical organization to the Skating Rink, Stratford, on the evening of September the 13th. Everyone should hear them. It is only one chance in a life-time.

And Buried Jack, the Well Digger. 30 feet beneath the Surface. Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 7.—John McGachon, a well digger, was working in a well 30 feet underground late this afternoon when the sides caved in, and he was buried alive. The accident occurred on the 12th line, a short distance from the city. Rescue parties are at work to-night desperately endeavoring to get the man out, but it is thought impossible that he can have escaped. McGachon's home is in Stratford.

WRITER'S THOUGHT CRAMP

The Way the Flood of Inspired Ideas Flows and Flows.

If the fiction writer has his delicious moments, when he tastes the joys which come with the excitement of creative composition—and these he undoubtedly has—also he knows distressing periods of mental apathy.

He has been working away at top speed, full of gladness in that subtle fabric which his pen weaves in the warp and woof of paper and ink. His hand is packed with inspired ideas like a gift box from the gods. His hopes ride high. His ambitions scrape the clouds.

Then something happens. It is not a snap, a break, a crash—nothing so tangible. It is just a ceasing. Abruptly, unexpectedly, all his fine thoughts vanish. No longer is life a country of majestic, white robed heights and alluring purple toned valleys. All is flat and gray and bleak.

Just about now, if the writer only knew it, is a most excellent time to go fishing.

At last, baffled, discouraged, heart-sick, he sits with his head in his hands, contemplating with foolish self pity the melancholy spectacle of himself.

But, like drought and flood, war and pestilence and all other things great and small, it passes. And he knows not how or when it goes. Days after he wakes up to find himself, pen in hand, hard at work again. Of its own accord apparently the machine has set itself in motion.—Sewell Ford to The Reader.

Saved Ann a Ducking.

A colonial shrew who was threatened with the ducking stool was once saved by this plea.

"You wish to duck Ann Willott to cure her?" her defender declared. "Now if she be not cured where is the gain in ducking her? And if she be cured all the women who now keep a guard over their tongues through distaste to be likened to such a known, notorious and contemptible scold as Ann will do so no longer; but although it is not like any should become such as she, yet all will scold a little more than now they do, the check of her example being removed. Now, if it better that Ann, being a single woman without friends to afflict, should go unpunished and unducked, but despised by all, and wag her tongue as she will, standing there for the whole town, than that she should be silenced and the tongues of other women run more free?"

This argument seems to have prevailed, for Ann Willott was never ducked.—Youth's Companion.

Stephenson's Birthplace.

In a red tiled two story house on the road between Newcastle and Hexham, England, was born George Stephenson, the inventor of the first practical locomotive, on June 9, 1781. He earned his first regular money—a shilling a week—for looking after cows, and he was eighteen before he learned to read. The modeling of engines in clay was his favorite occupation as a boy, for when he grew up toward manhood he had charge of engines and displayed his inventive genius in their improvement. At last, in 1813, he produced his first locomotive, which he called a travelling engine. Lord Ravensworth was called a fool for advancing money for the construction of a locomotive. A few years, however, proved that Lord Ravensworth was not so foolish as people supposed, for in 1825 the Stockton and Darlington line was opened for traffic.

The Electrical Current.

The path traversed by a heavy current of electricity in passing through the body is a matter of great importance. The most dangerous is from one hand to the other, because the resistance of the path is low and because the current passes near the heart. Hence it is a good rule in handling live conductors to use but one hand. An important rule to observe in rescuing a person in contact with a live wire and when it is impossible to cut off the current is to push the victim off with one foot. Even should the current pass from one foot to the other through the rescuer the resistance of the path is considerable, and as the current does not pass near the heart serious injury is not likely to result.

Proof of a Conspiracy.

The following story is told in explanation of the reason why the teaching of chemistry in Turkish schools was forbidden some years ago. It had been proposed that this science should be added to the curriculum, but the first thing that struck the eyes of the ruler of the faithful on opening an elementary textbook of chemistry was the formula for water, H2O. "H2O," said the sultan, "is proof of a conspiracy to undermine my authority in the eyes of my subjects. If two O's That's nothing but a sly way of intimating that Hamid II. is a naught."

Beyond Belief.

Mr. Hunter (reading)—Hah! This advertisement says "roomy flat to let." Talk about your "condensed lye!"

Mrs. Hunter—How do you mean?

Mr. Hunter—Well, if it's roomy it surely can't be a flat; if it's really a flat it can't be roomy, and if it's some miracle it should be a roomy flat it wouldn't be "to let."
