WELLESLEY FALL SHOW.

GREAT EXHIBITION OF LIVE STOCK. A MAGNIFICENT HORSE SHOW.

Ideal weather greeted the Wellesley and North Easthope Agricultural Society's annual fall show, held here on Thursday and Friday last. The storm of a day or so previous had passed and while it left the land so that farmers could not work outside it brought the clear, balmy west wind which makes a holiday attractive.

In the hall the display was somewhat meagre, especially in roots. But the articles were all of a high order in quality. There were some special attractions such as Broshenham's display of musical instruments and sewing machines and the superb performance of a pianist brought for the occasion which was much appreciated. Mr. Henry Ulmer, Jr., of this village, also had a very pretty show of the fancy wood-work novelties which he manufactures and which are growing quite popular with the public.

In the live stock department the show was simply unbeatable. There were specimens of pure-bred Durhams from the Wellesley Stock Farm and from the famous herds of the Cooke, Hastings, and others which would have taken prizes in Toronto. Mr. C. R. Giles, of Heidelberg, had representatives of his great herd of Holsteins, while Jerseys and other breeds were also profusely shown. The show of hogs was away beyond any other year here. Mr. Hill has one pen of improved Yorkshires which was valued at nearly $1000, while Mr. Geo. Hyde's Canadian bred pens classed with anything the Dominion can produce.

But it was in horseflesh that the fair this year eclipsed all other years in point of excellence. All the classes were filled, ten and even fifteen entries sometimes facing the perplexed judges. Never before were such draught teams seen here, the span of imp. marcos from the Wellesley Stock Farm probably not having their superiors in the Province. And the lighter classes, too, were just as interesting, the carriage and roadster teams being numerous and almost matchless in quality. Single rigs were abundant and elegant, while the contests under saddle were also keen.

The Berlin Iron Works Co. had a fine exhibit of gasoline engines on the ground. A beautiful, 12-h. p. engine was kept in operation all day and many farmers gave it a close investigation.

The usual booths were scattered around the ground, while one flagrant gambling stand must have cleaned up at least $150 in an hour or so from the crowd, who really seemed to enjoy the operation. While watching the jam of eager people around the sweat board one could not help thinking that the gamblers' table—like the bank, the hotel, or the newspaper—is only filling "a long-foet want" which exists in the mind of a good many people, young and old.

The concert in the evening drew a fairly large crowd. James Fax and Harry Bennet, comedian, and Miss Inez Whaley, of Milverton, soprano soloist, furnished the program. Miss Knight, of Stratford, acted as accompanist. With such an accomplished galaxy it is needless to say the concert was an exceedingly enjoyable one.

LINWOOD.

Very successful anniversary services were held in the Methodist church on Sunday last. They were conducted by Rev. Mr. Crowie, of New Hamburg. The church was beautifully decorated.

Work is progressing rapidly on the C. P. R., every evening at six quite a large procession of teams marches into the village. A road has been cut through Schlenker's bush.

The new safe for Sovereign bank arrived last Monday evening. There was quite an exciting time in getting it into place.

Mrs. (Dr.) and Miss Varden, of Galt, were the guests of Mrs. R. Y. Fish.

Mr. A. Farrell and wife, of Chicago were the guests of Miss J. O'Connor, John at, last week.

Mr. F. W. Sheppard, Inspector of Public Schools, was in town last week. He visited the local school on Wednesday.

Mr. Wm. Robertson is improving his building by putting on a fine covering of tin.

Mr. Fred Heimbuch is home for a week's holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Goetz spent Saturday and Sunday in Berlin.

Mrs. Hubbard was visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Carnochan has returned to her home in Chicago.

Miss L. Coote, of Dorking is visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. Harrow.

MILINERY OPENING AT THE T. RUGGLE CO.'S.—The T. Ruggle Co., Linwood, Ont., herewith extend to the ladies of this vicinity a cordial invitation to attend their first Fall Opening of Millinery, Clothing, Silks, etc., on FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23RD AND 24TH, 1904. The above department will be under the able management of Miss Powell, who, with her assistants, will be pleased to show you our large stock of modern headwear. Music and refreshments each day and evening.

CROSSBILL

Boyd church will hold anniversary services on Sunday Oct. 2, at 11 o'clock, a. m. and 7 p. m. Both services conducted by Rev. Mr. Graham, of Avonton. On the following evening a tea meeting will be held. A large and varied program consisting of addresses, music and recitations will be given. Tea will be served in the basement and a good time is expected.

Hasting Bros. intend making a fine exhibit of Leicester sheep at St. Louis. They leave on the 25th.

Farmers are busy fall ploughing and thrashing. The recent frost is putting a hustle on the corn men.

Large droves of cattle are now passing through our village to be fed by farmers in the eastern part of the county. We cannot help but notice the large percentage of inferior stock. If there is to be a profit in feeding cattle all it is in the well bred, well fed steer.

Sandy Counts, of California, paid our village a visit last week looking up old acquaintance, after an absence of twenty-nine years. While here he was the guest of W. K. Leighton having learned his trade with Mr. Leighton's father before going west.

HAMBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Litwiller, spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mrs. L's brother, Mr. Noah Brunemann, at Cassel.

Grain crops are now off. Oats proves rather inferior quality, the straw being poor in this vicinity.

Hunters from Berlin and Waterloo have commenced their annual fall search for the small bush game in this neighborhood.

Mr. Peter Wagner is around Bamberg with his thrashing outfit these days doing as good work as ever.

It is understood that Mr. Ritter is to put a chopper at his sawmill. It would be appreciated by the farmers.

ST. CLEMENTA

Sept. 19th, 1904.
 Mr. Randolph, of Elmira, recently completed a cement sidewalk in front of A. Mattell's hotel which makes a big improvement.

Tony is constantly improving and is always on the alert for any improvements tending to the accommodation of his patrons.

The local cider mill has started the seasons operations and with its up-to-date improvements will no doubt be again kept busy.

Apple butter will also be manufactured and patrons can rest assured of the best treatment at the hands of this old firm.

Farmers are well through with their seeding and the harvest of 1904 is a thing of the past. Thrashing is keeping them busy and there is always something on hand for a busy farmer.

The new residence of Mr. Joseph Arnold is under roof, and carpenters are now engaged in finishing up the interior of same.

Mr. Henry Weber, who was injured in a railroad accident at Berlin some time ago, is again able to be about, having almost recovered from the accident.

Mr. John Beegel has sold his handsome new residence on Factory street, and now occupied by Mr. Ed Mosser, to Mr. Strap, St. Catharines, who will take possession Dec. 1st.

The Berlin electric railway by-law protest is, we are informed, to come up for another hearing at Osgood Hall to-day. It is to be hoped the matter will be settled in one way or the other this time.

R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative opposition, is making a tour of Western Ontario this week, speaking to immense audiences. In replying to an address which included his wife, at Aylmer, he got off the best platform joke of the season by saying he was leader of the opposition in a dual sense—in Ottawa and in his own home. While he looked forward to being leader of the Ottawa government at an early day, there was little probability of reaching that dignity in his home. Hundreds of married men present could easily believe he was telling the truth that time.

THREE JURORS CURED.

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Chocoma county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some some meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one twenty-five cent bottle cured the three of us." For sale by A. J. Saunders, druggist, Wellesley.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

On Labor Day, amid the din and rattle of the celebration, a Galt man took his daily Reporter on the front porch to read. It made him so drowsy that he slept for 80 years according to the Reporter's own story.

The Soo election trial has resulted in the unseating of Mr. Smith. Considerable corruption was shown. One of the worst on record was the sailing of a vessel from the Michigan Soo with a load of Americans who went to two mining polls and voted in a body for Smith at both polls. The cost of this protest trial has been placed upon Mr. Smith, and it is estimated that they will foot up about $10,000.

It cost experimenters at the Wellesley Show last Friday somewhere between one and two hundred dollars to find out that they could not beat the gamblers' sweat-board game. In fact they were so "easy" that the sharpers actually quit plying their game long before they had gathered in all the money in sight. People who would fight the addition of half a mill to their taxes for improvements were ready with their money, from 25c up to $10, even after they saw by others playing that the thing was a "fako". What less a does this teach the fall show directors? Does it warn them to prevent any gambling whatever on the show grounds and thus compel these sharks to ply their games in the alleys and sheds during the fair? Or does it advise them to permit it openly so that minors may not be robbed, and grown-up people who are really anxious to be "bled" can have the opportunity in the presence of everybody, thus gratifying them and furnishing a warning to others at the same time? If the latter system obtains, and a high enough licence is charged, it will at least keep some of the "easy" money in the community. And the Society could then afford to spend a little money in advertising their show properly so that the gate receipts would be doubled, as they might easily be in this rich and populous section.

The steadily advancing price of wool should bring sheep-raising to the foreground again. The United States tariff on lambs and the low price of wool almost drove the sheep off the farms some years ago and sheep raising in Ontario has languished ever since. But with wool close to 20c mark, and good prospects that it will go up to 25c per pound, or even higher, next year, the farmer is not apt to neglect that industry, now that it is again becoming remunerative. The Shropshires and Oxfords (with black heads and feet) grow the wool which is highest in favor with manufacturers, the fleeces being of that strong, wavy, close nature so much sought after by manufacturers of woollen goods. These two varieties, too, are hardy and thrive well in Canada. Farmers who contemplate increasing their flocks should think twice before disposing of lambs of these two breeds. In this section where manufacturers of pure woollen goods, like Reiner Bros. & Co., are ready to buy all that can be raised, the incentive to go into sheep raising on a more extended scale should be quite strong amongst the farmers, especially as this branch of agriculture will help to solve the hired help problem which is driving so many of our farmers into stock-raising lines.

Thursday, Nov. 17th, has been fixed by the Canadian government as Thanksgiving Day.

NEEDS DRAINING.

PETE AND JAKE HAVE A DEBATE.

The other day Jake and Pete stood on the walk at the post office watching a load of grain bunnip through the pitch-holes on its way to the mill. The road was pretty dry, the unevenness being quite evidently the result of previous wet spells. Jake put down his white ash brush and pail, and said:

"That road needs a coat of gravel." "Not much," answered Pete, tying the cow he was leading to the hitching post, "last time I was in town I was told that there is at least six feet of gravel there now." "Well, it ought to be crowned up anyway," said Jake, with a sympathetic look at the jolting farmer.

"That wouldn't do much good, either," was the rejoinder. "A road that is travelled as much as that one should have a large drain put down right in the middle of the street. It should be far enough below the surface not to freeze in winter, and yet near enough the top to catch all the water that filters through the gravel. Then the road-bed could be crowned so that the water would roll off easily after a rain and the drain catch all the soakage. That would keep the gravel dry and pitchholes couldn't be formed. Besides that the gravel would last ten times as long for it would stay on top till it wears out, instead of sinking in the mud till it gets to be six feet deep, as they say it is here, with such a poor surface as this after all."

"Yes, but digging street drains costs money, and the taxes are too high already. Besides that, the council has spent an awful lot of money in Wellesley lately and the north people would kick if any more was spent."

"I don't think you villagers know the temper of the north people, or you wouldn't say that. The farmers know that every cent that is spent in making a road that is good and will last is the cheapest kind, and there never yet has been a kick in Wellesley township over the cost of anything that was well done. The council fixed Wallenstein hill, on the north boundary; it cost a lot, but it was a good, lasting job. They built a bridge on the west boundary; it cost nearly $5 a term that year in taxes. They spent a lot of money making Grehm's flats passable a way in the south. Did you ever hear any sensible ratepayer kicking over these expenditures? No? Well you never will," said Pete, flicking the flies off his cow's back.

"Say, Pete, you must be one of them Crosshillers or we hear about," said Jake. "If the Farmer's Institute hear of you they will want you to go out speaking at their meetings."

"If I did," said Pete, "I'd introduce a new feature. They talk about roots, and crops, and weeds, and such things, but never a word about the most important thing of all, that is the road that takes their stuff to market, and that jolts the bones out of them when they have a load like that farmer who just drove past to the mill."

"When you get to making public speeches of that kind," answered Jake, "don't let the blacksmiths, or harness makers, or wagon makers catch you, for you'll about ruin their business if your idea catches with the public. Why I—"

But just then he saw his wife coming up street and he remembered that he had forgotten to buy meat for dinner, so he grabbed his pail and brush and dashed out of sight in the nearest alley, while Pete unhitched his fat cow and drove her, amongst the barking village dogs, to the butcher shop.

Cured of Lame Back After 15 Years of Suffering.

Who's Your Tailor?

A poor-fitting suit of clothes may sometimes cost less money over the counter, but you won't get the comfort or the value out of it that you do from a suit made especially to fit you. An $8 outfit, that you become disgusted with and throw away inside of three months is not as cheap as the $12 natty suit that you cling to with pleasure for a year or more because it was built to fit you. MER THE POINT?

Well, just now I have some sense in cloth that I can make up into the "year-or-more" pleasureable fit, and yet sell at just about the "three-months" price.

Just hitch up, drive in to Linwood and see me.

What's the Price To-Day?

The farmer who already knows the market prices for grain and produce need fear no combination of buyers when he goes to market.

How often the buyers "get together" on prices every farmer knows.

How often has a farmer sold his grain in one town for a couple of cents less than the buyers were paying in a neighboring market?

It pays to keep posted on the markets.

The Toronto Daily Star has the best market reports of any city paper. It has men who do nothing else but study the markets—who give it all their time and attention, and you can get all this information in the Star every weekday for a year and your own local paper as well for $2.20.

If you save a cent a bushel on only two loads of grain by knowing the prices it will about pay the price, won't it? Besides think of being in touch with the world's news every day.
