F. HOLWELL, Tr. Clerk
HAMPSHIRE.

The death of Mrs. Catherine Stueck, widow of the late Engelhard Stueck, occurred last Saturday evening at the home of her son, Mr. George Stueck, in her 88th year. Deceased was born in Germany and came to Canada in 1815.
The following year she was married to Mr. Stueck, with whom she had become acquainted when crossing the Atlantic. They lived at Preston a short time then settled on a farm in South Easthope west of Balaclava where they lived many years and where their family was born and raised. About thirty years ago they moved to Hampstead where Mr. Stueck died a little over three years ago. Since that time Mrs. Stueck has made her home principally with her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Schmidt, on the Wellesley boundary north of here, and for the past few months at the home of her son, George, where she died. A slight stroke about two years ago weakened her health and a second attack recently was the principal cause of her death.
The remains were laid away to rest in the burying in St. Joseph's (Catholic) and cemetery, of which church she had for many years been a consistent, highly respected member.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save.
He must spend $2 in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful of unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, can do more than several dollars outlay can. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by A. J.
Saunders, druggist, Wellesley.

Wetting a Wheel.

Once when Chief Justice John Macdougall was driving in Victoria he found that the tire on one of his wheels was low and kept slipping off. He didn't know a great deal about common accidents, for he had not lived much with the common affairs of life, but he did know that water would clean a tire on a wheel. So he came to a little branch and drove into it and got one little section of the wheel wet, then drove out and backed his horse, and the same part of the wheel went into the water again, and he pulled back and kept sawing back and forth until, all the time getting the same part of the wheel wet. While the judge was bothering himself about how to get the wheel wet a negro came along and, seeing the situation, told him to back into the water again. He did so, and the negro took hold of the spokes of the wheel and, turning it around directly, had it wet all around. Judge Macdougall said, "Well, I never thought of that." The negro replied, "Well, some men just naturally have more sense than others anyway."

Too Much Realism.

"Do you not feel at times," remarked the friendly critic, "that realism can be carried too far on the stage?"

"Yes," replied the tragic actor, with a sigh. "The last man I was working for did it. He wanted to pay us all off in stage money."

Coming an' Going.

"Hello, Mike! Do you feel much to do now?"

"Yes. I'm just after cuttin' down a tree, and tomorrow I'll have to cut it up."

North Pole For Bald Heads.

"Talking of hair restorers," said the captain of a steamer who has been a friend's at St. Mary's.
"I wonder, none of them is in it with the air of the arctic regions. A man with thin hair who falls to get a new crop if he goes within the arctic circle is a hopeless case. I have seen whalers who got bald when they stayed at home for a year or two and got a new crop of hair every time they went toward the north pole on a whaling expedition."

"How do I account for it? The farther you go north the land animals get shaggier. It is a provision against the cold. When the winter approaches, the reindeer, the bears and other animals get a thicker coat of hair or fur.
Similarly the hair on the human head thickens when you go far north."

"It is a fact. Now, I don't want you to think that once the follicles of the hair are dead new hair always comes, even in northern regions. Sometimes, when a man is apparently as bald as a billiard ball, the follicles are not dead, and there is hope for him."

Newton's Accuracy.

Newton's law of gravitation, which states that two bodies attract each other with a force inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them, was made the subject of an exhaustive investigation by Professor Brown of Haverford college. His calculations show Newton's law to represent the motion of our moon within the one-millionth part of 1 per cent, and he states that no other physical law has ever been expressed with anything like the precision of the simple statement of this one.—London Globe.

Entombed by Frost.

A mother recently brought her little boy to school for his first time, and she said to the teacher:
"This little boy is very delicate, as he is rather a bit of a nervous on the loose, but if he does anything bold, and I know he will, bates the way next to him an' 'will frighten him."

Pupils.

"There is a new pupil," said the boy's father, "I'd like you to keep in your eye."

"I've a pupil to each eye already," replied the pedagogue. "However, I'll keep this one under the lash at any rate."

His Strong Point.

Amateur—This is my latest attempt at a landscape. May I ask what you think of the perspective? Artist—The perspective is its strong point. The further away you stand the better it looks.

"Forget yourself and be a gentleman," may not be a new phrase, but it is a good one to paste in somebody's hat-tag—your own.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the old days, before the Dominion elections of 1896, the Tory papers used to have cartoons representing hungry Grits with big spoons in their hands running towards the troughs where the government officials were supposed to feed on the public funds until they got fat. At later election times after the Grits "got in," these cartoons were reversed so as to represent the Tories as the hungry ones. But the proceedings of the Dominion parliament last week shows that every member of the house carries a big spoon and a hungry appetite and has an eagle eye on the public trough.

It's not so many years ago since the Dominion parliament raised the sessional allowance from $1000 to $1500. Indeed, the sum of guilt for this cheeky grab had hardly subsided on some of their faces when another "raise" is proposed (and patriotically carried through without opposition) which makes the "indemnity" $2,500. How long it will be until they chuck it up to $5,000 depends upon the meekness with which the people swallow this dose.

But in placing ex-Ministers on half-pay allowances for life, parliament certainly "went the limit." There's not a vestige of reason why a cabinet minister who loses the confidence of the electors, and with it his office, should be granted a princely salary for life. Their remuneration and perquisites while in office are magnificent, including private cars, railway passes, private secretaries, and a host of department clerks who do the work, all paid out of the public funds. It is not as if cabinet minister material was scarce in Canada. The men of cabinet ability are plenty; the woods is full of them—two on a limb. In fact Canadian history shows that no little piggy runs squealing up and down a fence line looking for a weak place to break through into a clover field with more anxiety than a Canadian politician strives for a place in the cabinet. And when they are driven out by public vote they are entitled to no more than the piggy driven from the clover field. In making this big "grab," however, parliament was careful to get both political parties involved in the responsibility, knowing well that partyism in Canada is no bigoted that it will swallow any old thing rather than turn against its Stratford is to-day (Wednesday) voting on a by-law to assist the establishment of a thread manufacturing establishment in that city, and there is every reason to believe the vote will be favorable. Stratford has for the past five or six years been quite progressive in including manufactories to locate there with splendid results. Within that time the east end of the city has become a busy hive of factories while the population has jumped up from 8,000 to 13,000. The debt of the city has grown, naturally, but the assessed value has increased by reason of the hundreds of new buildings erected so that the rate in the $ there is scarcely larger than five years ago. As soon as this thread factory matter is disposed of Stratford will tackle the C. P. R. problem and under the energetic management of Mayor Ferguson and his wide awake backing in the council and Board of Trade it is safe to say the C. P. R. will be brought into the Classic City next year.

The Russian soldiers in the east are reported to be begging their officers not to lead them into any other battle, since they have learned that peace negotiations have been commenced. The Japanese, however, are pressing them hard and they will soon have to fight or surrender.

Rejitzewsky is able to explain why the Jap fleet licked him. He says it was because his ships, his guns, his officers and his men were inferior. In fact the whole outfit, except himself, of course, were to blame.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.
Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dwyer, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This Remedy is for sale by A. J. Saunders, druggist, Wellesley.

ZINKANN'S SACRIFICE SALE.

See bill for list of bargains. The Sacrificed Prices cover the whole stock, and the goods must positively be sold by September. The prices we ask are much less than what the goods cost us wholesale. J. A. ZINKANN, Wellesley village.

Mr. John Lenhard sent you local a fine mess of new potatoes on last Thursday. There were seven potatoes in the package, and they weighed just three pounds. They were of the variety known as the "Early Pink-eye," the seed of which was received by Mr. Lenhard from the Experimental Farm last year.

It was generally considered that the Gorman carp were no good until Albert Reiner's experiment leaked out the other evening. It seems he has been training a big carp in the mill race back of the store until he can now get into his canoe, hook onto the trained carp which will draw him around the pond for an hour at a stretch. The story came out to prove that Albert had not been buying an electric launch on the sly.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.
The average man does not save to exceed 10 per cent. of his earnings. He must spend $2 in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by A. J. Saunders, druggist, Wellesley.

Guests in China.
A feature in the life of the Celestial when at home, says the author of "Society in China," is the number of itinerant craftsmen who earn their livelihood on the street. Almost anything from the mending of a broken rice bowl to the most elaborate one dressing may be obtained of one or another of these street travelers. Blacksmiths carry the implements of their trade about with them, the bellows so constructed as to serve also the purpose of a tool box and a seat when "off duty." If a man's jacket or shoes need repairing he may call a passing tailor or cobbler and possibly employ the time while waiting with the services of an itinerant barber.

In Touch with the World

Covering the earth like a spider's web the cable winds its sinuous way under seas, over mountains and plains, across continents to every country and clime on the globe.

So when King Edward opens Parliament or Emperor William leads the band, when Gladstone breathes out, or a volcano in the East Indies does the same, when South Africa seethes in war or Venezuela defies the powers, when rain breaks the Australian drouth or the plague breaks out in India, when the Empress of China suppresses the Boxers or Japan negotiates a loan, —the news is instantly flashed around the globe, across oceans and continents right into the Toronto Daily Star office. The Star's direct special cable service is better than any other paper's in Ontario.

And you get all this cable news along with your own local paper for $2.20. Think of it—a single word sent to you personally might cost more than the price of the Star, with its hundreds of columns of cable news, for a whole year.

Subscribe direct to the Star or through the office of this paper. Both the Daily Star and this paper for $2.20 for a year.
