ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.
About twenty-five of the congregation of the Presbyterian church surprised Mrs. Jackson at the home of her mother, Mrs. Webster, one evening last week, and presented her with a beautiful mantel clock and china plates. Following is the address:—

"Dear Mrs. Jackson,—We, your friends of Boyd church, have chosen this occasion to mark our recognition of your long and faithful services among us. During your nine years as organist in our church, you have won the esteem of us all, and we deeply regret your departure from our midst. But wherever your duties through life may call you remember that you carry with you our best and sincere wishes for a happy and prosperous future. Kindly accept the accompanying gifts, the clock and the china pieces, not for their intrinsic value, but for the spirit in which they are given as a slight token of our appreciation of your kindness, and though our paths in this life may separate, we all hope to meet again and join our voices in heaven above. But ere we part we all join in wishing you and Mr. Jackson a very long happy wedded life. Signed on behalf of the congregation,—Ad. Coute, Allice Hastings, Jean Bernds. The evening was spent in games and music. The ladies served an excellent lunch about midnight. After singing Aid. Luby Syne the company dispersed.

It is our painful duty to chronicle the death of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Gildner after a short illness of one day. The funeral service was conducted at the home on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. Haig, interment being made at Pine Hill. Deceased was only thirteen months old. The parents get the sympathy of the community.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Remember, partner, that a surfeit of anything is a poison, and a foe to a calm and untroubled existence.

Sympathy is the golden key that unlocks the door to the heart of humanity.

There are a thousand failures from lack of ability to one from lack of appreciation.

We can only plant the tree of knowledge beside the tree of superstition and hope that its roots will be strong enough to draw away the sap and let the superstition wither.—Tyndall.

If we did indeed love our enemies, if even now we began to love our enemies we would have no enemies.—Leo Tolstoy.

When life is woe
And hope is dumb,
The world says "Go!"
The Grave says "come."

It is the acme of absurdity to heap personal abuse upon Rookefeller. Society has allowed this man to pile up a mountain of wealth, and then blames him for his excessive possessions. This is the essence of unreason; and the oil vender, unctuous as his wares, is justified in the sense of injury he undoubtedly cherishes.

Did you ever stop to think of the work a Councillor has to do? The man who goes into municipal politics, and performs his duty faithfully and, well loses a lot of time which might be more profitably spent in his own business. "Why does he run for office then?" you ask. Well he's a public spirited sort of a duck, and then he don't want to see "that other fellow who don't know beans," go in and run the town to destruction. The sentiment of the thing is sublime. Now don't expect all the councillors will be in tomorrow to see if we are "driving" at them.

Health requires food, exercise, sunshine, pure air and contentment. Because the individual breaks down in his attempt to eat everything he should not starve to death. Because exercise is good it does not mean over-develop, so that one dies early, as most athletes do. Sunshine is good, but one does not need to strip naked and sit on a sandy beach until his fat boils through the skin; neither does he need to put a skylight in his hat, or run around without a hat. Pure air is necessary but one need not refuse to go in the house out of a storm, or foolishly sit on the front of a car when the mercury is 25 degrees below after leaving a house that is overheated. Contentment is a good thing, but one need not bury all ambition and refuse to get on in the world because someone has said that riches breed discontent and that because "ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." Moderation in everything is the secret of a successful life.

THE HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

For it Cares for Every Sick Child in Ontario whose Parents Cannot Afford to Pay For Treatment.

The Hospital for Sick Children, College Street, Toronto, appeals to the fathers and mothers of Ontario for funds to maintain the thousand sick children that it nurses within its walls every year.

The Hospital is not a local institution—but Provincial. The sick child from any place in Ontario who can't afford to pay has the same privileges as the child living in Toronto and is treated free.

The Hospital had last year in its beds and cot 761 patients. 307 of these were from 156 places outside of Toronto.

The cost is 95 cents per patient per day, and there were 129 sick little ones a day in the Hospital.

"GOOD DAY, DOCTOR."

Since its foundation the Hospital has treated 10,771 children—about 7,500 of these were unable to pay and were treated free.

Every dollar may be the translator of your kind thoughts into the Hospital kind deeds.

Everybody's dollar may be the Friend in Need to Somebody's child.

Let the money of the strong be mercy to the weak. The Hospital pays out dividends of health and happiness to suffering childhood on every dollar that is paid by the friends of little children.

If you know of any sick child in your neighborhood who is sick or crippled or has club foot send the parson's name to the Hospital.

See the example of what can be done for club-foot children. There were 14 like cases last year and hundreds in 23 years.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Dignation has its uses: so has a kale press. But one would not have it for dessert.

Ont upon the intellectual sea there is room for every sail. In the intellectual air there is space for every wing.

Experience is merely a faint light. Its rays seldom illumine the track in front of us as we plunge on to new scenes, sorrows and sensations.

You may renovate your reputation and even kalsomine your character, but there is no real reform unless you give your heart a house cleaning.

The cigarette fiend is a pitiful object of overwork clutching at happiness through the smoke in his nose. His gamboge face and saffron-tinted fingers brand him as a victim whose thick tank is loaded from the pressure of coffin nails. To lead a cigarette fiend back to health and sanity he must be roped and held fast until the passing of ladies that comes from a rapid divorce between a victim and his paper-covered poison stick.

When it comes to getting married, be sure you get the right man, or the right woman. The right woman is a delight, an oasis in the desert, a shady place on a sultry afternoon, a cooling brook in a parched land, a tonic in debilitating lassitude, a balm in trouble, an ecstasy of joy in health, a garden of roses and for ever. If you should be so unfortunate as to marry the wrong woman, may the Lord have mercy on your soul. You will find her a calamity on the installment plan, a string of cow bells, a calico cut loose, a cat fight on wheels, a pestilence and a famine combined, a boiler factory in full bloom, chubbins, and sore eyes in one package. The same woman, if married to her affinity—to the right man—would be an angel, and vice versa. Be sure you have the right one, and then go ahead.
